Rogers Rises to Put in Nomination Senator Robinson

(Special To The News)

PINE BLUFF, Ark., Feb. 28.—At the conventions, pretty near every state will waste a complimentary vote on some useless native son.

Of course most of them will have to do so with a smile. But when the great old state of Arkansas shouts, "Eighteen votes for Senator Joe Robinson," why they won't have to apologize to nobody.

Joe is for you or agin you, whichever you want. He'll play you poker or golf, kiss you or fight you.

Whenever he makes a speech he makes you think he is going to bite you. He is tougher than a top sergeant, but a senator and a statesman combined, a rare combination.

The Democrats could nominate a lot worse and the chances are they will.

Yours,
WILL ROGERS.

PA NEWC OBSERVES

Somebody did a good task yesterday. The depressions in the paving on Washington street, just east of the public square, made by some excavation work, that had been noted for several weeks, were repaired. These depressions had worn down until they were traffic hazards.

Much interest is being shown by local citizens in the demonstrations being made before the civic clubs of the operation of a voting machine. The matter of using machines for voting is to come before the voters of the state in the fall, and the machine is being demonstrated throughout the state so that those who have never seen any in operation will have an idea of their working. Voting machines would certainly get the unanimous approval of newspapermen who have ever tackled the job of compiling election returns, we are certain.

Friday will be Pennsylvania Day, and down at the library they are preparing a map of Pennsylvania, with the names of Pennsylvania authors emblazoned on it. Which makes Pa Newc ask: How many authors are natives of New Castle and Lawrence county?

If the display had been rat traps, the scene would have been perfect. For, last evening, while waiting for the car, we had occasion to look at a window display, and there was one of the smallest mice, peacefully crawling about in the window of a local store, disturbing no one, and not being disturbed by the large audience which he soon had watching him.

He was an old man, and as he carefully picked up his sandwich and broke it in half, one knew that he had seen better days. And, after he had finished, instead of hauling out a greasy handkerchief and wiping his chin as most derelicts do, he used a paper napkin with the best of etiquette—if anyone can do an Emily Post with a paper napkin. Then, he reached for his hat and ambled out of the restaurant.

A Lawrence county fair in miniature is being conducted today out at Westfield Grange hall, near Mt. Jackson. The community farm products show of the grange is one that has many Lawrence county farm products on exhibition and is attracting widespread attention. It is remarkable what fine products are produced on Lawrence county farms when they are gathered together in an exhibition of this kind and placed on display. A program is being carried out in connection with the farm exhibit.

Indications are that Secretary of Labor James J. Davis will receive an exceptionally enthusiastic greeting when he visits New Castle on Saturday afternoon, to take part in the St. David's day celebration which is being arranged at the Cathedral by the Women's Welsh Club. It will be the first visit of Mr. Davis to New Castle in several years. His last appearance here was during the national campaign of four years ago.

Battle Cry For 1928 Campaign Sounded Today

"Put Prohibition Into Party Platforms", Cry From Dry Advocates

REFORM ADVOCATES MEET IN CAPITAL

Three-Minute Speeches By Prominent Figures In Associations Bespeak Views

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—The prohibition battlecry for the 1928 campaign was raised here today. "Put prohibition into party platforms!"

Nearly a hundred churchmen-prohibitionists got behind the project today at a mass meeting at the Mayflower Hotel. Almost every reform organization in the country was represented at the meeting and dozens of papers and addresses were read, all supporting the plan to force the two major parties to definitely go on record in their part platforms in favor of prohibition "as is" or in favor of more drastic enforcement methods.

Three-minute speeches were made by representatives of the alcohol information committee, the Anti-Saloon League, Association of Catholics Favoring Prohibition, Association in Support of National Prohibition, Methodist Board of Temperance, Prohibition and Public Morals, W. C. T. U., Flying Squadron, National Reform Association, Scientific Temperance Federation, National Temperance Society, International Temperance Commission, Baptist Social Service Commission, National Temperance Society, Universal Department of Social Service, Catholic Clergy Prohibition League, Presbyterian Welfare Board, National Civic League, Christian Endeavor Society, Intercollegiate Prohibition Society, National Sons of Temperance and a host of others.

Bishop Manning Speaks

"In order that it may be fairly tested, enforcement must be entrusted to those who believe in it," said a message from Bishop William T. Manning of New York.

"Because of the vast appointive power of the President," said Mrs. Ella A. Boole, head of the W. C. T. U., "it is especially important he be a man who sincerely desires to secure for the country the full benefit of this great and good law."

"We launch today the national offensive this crisis has demanded," said Dr. Daniel A. Poling.

"Nullification is treason," asserted Dr. A. J. Barton, southern Baptist, of Atlanta. "This is the paramount issue of the campaign."

"The hour has come when there can be no compromise on the part of friends of prohibition," declared Dr. J. W. Claudy of Pittsburgh.

"We demand of candidates unequivocal declarations in favor of the 18th amendment," said E. L. G. Hohenthal of South Manchester, Conn.

"Let the politicians choose whom they will serve," said R. H. Martin of Pittsburgh.

Plan To Reveal "Fuelless Motor" To Public Soon

Scientific Doubters Will Be Given Opportunity To View Airplane In Action

ORIGINAL MODEL NOW DISMANTLED

By ROBERT W. GINSBURG
International News Service Staff Correspondent

(Copyright 1928 International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 28.—The public and doubting scientists will be given an opportunity, probably in the next thirty days, of seeing the new "fuelless" motor that has created a sensation in motordom and among physicist, actually in operation in an airplane.

A second motor, similar to the first one designed by Lester J. Hendershot, youthful West Elizabeth, Pa., inventor, is being constructed and will be installed in an airplane and demonstrated to the public and all "doubting Thomases," International News Service learned from a close associate of Hendershot today.

The original Hendershot motor demonstrated in Detroit last week has been dismantled, and for that reason cannot be demonstrated to those who doubt it now. The present whereabouts of the motor is being kept a strict secret by those connected with it.

THREE NAVAL OFFICERS MISSING ON FLIGHT

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—Close scrutiny of the waters of Chesapeake Bay having yielded no clue, the aerial search for three missing naval airmen spread out fanwise today over the wooded hills of Maryland and Virginia.

Land and seaplanes joined in the search at dawn today for the three officers and their amphibian plane who have been missing for nearly 36 hours. They disappeared completely while on a simple two-hour flight from Hampton Roads to Annapolis.

Missing Officers

The missing officers are: Commander T. G. Ellyson, one of the most expert pilots in the navy; Lt. Com. Hugo Schmidt, of Brooklyn, and Lt. Roger Ransehousen of Springfield, Mass. Ellyson, the first man to qualify a naval air pilot and who trained under the Wright brothers and Glenn Curtis, was a native of Richmond.

They left Hampton Roads at 2 o'clock yesterday morning in an amphibian plane. They should have reached Annapolis about 4 a. m. But when noon came and they had not arrived, some alarm was felt and scouting planes were sent out to comb the waters of the Chesapeake for trace of them. It was believed they might have experienced motor trouble and landed in the water. But the searching planes droned all after-

Admiral Brumby Is Acquitted By Inquiry Report

Supplementary Investigation Of S-4 Disaster Acquits Brumby

INQUIRY BOARD AGAIN DISMISSED

Believe That Admiral Brumby Will Escape Court Martial

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28. — Rear Admiral Frank H. Brumby, who was vigorously criticized in the first report of the naval board of inquiry on the S-4 disaster, has been acquitted by the supplementary investigation ordered last week by Secretary Wilbur.

The second report of the naval court, which has concluded its job of setting forth "completely and with particularity," the reasons for its general findings probably will be published in a week or ten days, following review by the Secretary and the Judge Advocate General.

Although the reconvened court confirmed its original conclusions that the commanders of both the S-4 and the coast guard destroyer Paulding were equally responsible for the disaster, the second report also endorses the statement of the Navy Bureau of Navigation that the "major presumptive responsibility" for the crash rested with the S-4 because of the relatively higher visibility under the existing weather conditions.

Fail To Discuss Report

Naval officials declined to discuss the second report today in advance of its formal publication.

The board of inquiry has again been dismissed, subject to call when the S-4 is brought to the surface, at least a month hence.

Although a court martial had been recommended for Admiral Brumby because of his alleged failure to contribute forceful and intelligent leadership to the rescue efforts in Provincetown Harbor last December, the board elected to give him a direct hearing, which it did by letter. Brumby's defense of the charge was that he deemed it wise to leave the details of technique in the hands of his subordinates at all times and he points to the board's first conclusion

Canadian Mother Rescues Six Children But Is Burned Trying To Save Four

Mrs. Lindbergh Shakes Hand Of 1,204 Delegates

(International News Service)

BOSTON, Feb. 28—With the charge of President A. Lawrence Lowell of Harvard that American schools are wasteful and the ringing defense of the schools by Dr. Frank D. Boynton, superintendent of schools in Ithaca, N. Y., still the chief topic of discussion, the National Education association convention delved into other educational subjects today.

Mrs. Evangeline L. Lindbergh, here to receive a gold medal from the convention in recognition of the aviation achievements of her distinguished son, attended several of the convention meetings today. Yesterday she shook hands with 1204 delegates at a reception in the Hall of Flags in the state house.

The meeting of the members of the department of superintendents was largely attended today.

Search Woods In New Jersey For Alleged Slayer

Man Said To Resemble Suspect In Slaying Of Margaret Brown Is Seen

HUNDREDS TAKE UP INTENSIVE HUNT

(International News Service)

SOMERVILLE, N. J., Feb. 28.—A hundred policemen and civilians today plunged into the dense woods back of the Richard Lindabury estate on Bernardsville road in pursuit of a man seen to enter the thickets and known to answer the description of the slayer of Margaret Brown.

The man was seen to enter the woods by Elmer Trimmer, superintendent of the Lindabury estate. He carried a bundle of newspapers and looked about him in a furtive, hunted manner. The same man was seen to enter the woods yesterday morning Trimmer said, but he made no report to the police at the time.

While the police of Bernardsville and Somerville joined forces in the hunt and civilians, armed with all manner of weapons, augmented their forces, a troop of state police under command of Captain J. J. Lamb were rushing to the scene from the Morristown barracks.

Expect Pilot's Body To Be Washed Ashore

(International News Service)

MELBOURNE, Fla., Feb. 28.—Fishermen and coast guard vessels for miles along the East Coast of Florida kept a close watch today for the body of Harry Brooks, chief test pilot for the Ford Motor company whose plane crashed at sea near here Saturday night.

The beacon on the beach here was kept burning all night while a motorcycle patrol kept running up and down the sandy course in hopes that the body will be washed ashore. This watch is being maintained as far south as Miami.

WASHINGTON, Pa., Feb. 28.—A large "monkey-face", very rare specimen of the species owl, has been captured on a farm near Fredericktown, it was learned here today.

Scientists Show Skepticism Over Fuelless Motor

Noted Authorities Question Theory Upon Which Invention Is Claimed

INVENTOR HOLDS FAST TO GROUND

Declares That Motor Works, Despite Criticism Of Noted Authorities

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 28.—A wave of scientific skepticism arose today to cast a shadow of doubt over the achievement of L. J. Hendershot, the West Elizabeth inventor who claims he has invented a "fuelless" motor.

Hendershot's invention drew fire chiefly from two sources, one being Dean L. P. Sieg, physicist of the University of Pittsburgh, and the other F. W. Hochstetter, research engineer who claims a former association with Hendershot.

Inventor Holds Ground

But despite the cries of "hoax" and "deception", the young inventor held his ground, dismissing derisive statements with the retort: "the motor tested at Detroit recently was built by army men under my direction and it worked."

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 28.—"It works."

This was the reply of Lester J. Hendershot to published statements that scientists doubted the ability of his fuelless motor to draw power from the earth's magnetic forces sufficient to turn an airplane motor.

Hendershot said he did not care to reveal the secret of his motor, and would not do so to 'satisfy the curiosity" of doubters.

Hendershot's device, which he hopes will revolutionize, first of all, aviation, utilizes the earth's magnetic forces. Its secret, he says, is in the method of winding a magnet in the motor so that it will rotate in the opposite direction from which the earth revolves.

He does not profess to have a perpetual motion machine, nor is there any foundation for reports that the motor operates on radio waves or draws electricity from the air. After about 2,000 hours of operation, he says, the magnet would need recharging.

Dean Sieg recalled other noted revolutionary type motors which proved to be fakes. While he has not seen the Hendershot model, which the inventor demonstrated to Col. Charles A. Lindbergh and a group of the latter's associates in Detroit last week, he opined that the earth's magnetic field could not produce sufficient power to propel an airplane motor.

WARM REPLY FOR PINCHOT

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—Commissioner William E. Humphrey, chairman of the federal trade commission, today sent a brief letter to Gifford Pinchot, former governor of Pennsylvania, and noted conservationist, replying to a letter Pinchot wrote last week accusing Humphrey of being a "lobbyist for the lumbermen".

Pinchot wrote after the senate placed the investigation of the electric power industry in the hands of the trade commission. He expressed doubt that an effective inquiry would be made by the latter body, and assailed Humphrey in strong terms, at the same time offering to submit information bearing upon the purpose of the inquiry.

"Dear Pinchot," Humphrey wrote in answer, "your letter of regurgitated filth received. For your own famished state and for the infinite relief of the country, have your keeper feed you to a thistle patch. Sympathetically yours, W. E. Humphrey."

Young Eli Girl Law Graduate Acclaimed In Debate With Harvard Overseer On Woman's Rights

BOSTON, Feb. 28.—Harvard takes another trimming from Yale. But this time the news can be kept off the sport pages.

Miss Florence Rogatz, a graduate of the Yale Law school, took on B. Loring Young, a retiring overseer of Harvard and one of the foremost orators of Massachusetts, and licked him in a debate on the twentieth amendment.

This measure, if you skip over the Washington date-lines, was introduced in congress, last month, by Senator Curtis, and proposes that:

Crime Commission Blames Police Inefficiency For Country's Crime Record

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Feb. 28.—Inefficiency of the police, due to the "lack of average intelligence," is blamed for this country's "notorious crime record," in a report of the National Crime Commission made public today.

The report was made by the committee on inefficiency of police and courts. Frank O. Lowden, former governor of Illinois, is chairman of the committee.

The report admits that courts and parole boards also have been at fault.

"But," it adds, "the most startling thing is the small number of criminals caught by the police."

Crime the report said, would seem to be the safest business in which one could engage. The luckless individual who is arrested, it was said, must attribute his misfortune "to an act of God, as he would in case of disastrous storm, shipwreck, or earthquake."

Only two per cent of thieves are apprehended in Cleveland and St. Louis. Buffalo arrests men only in three per cent of its robberies. New York, in 1925 made arrests in twenty per cent of its felonies. In 1924, arrests were made in fourteen per cent of New York's burglaries.

Further it was pointed out, the courts convict only a portion of the men brought to trial. The result, according to the report, is a "pre-scientific stage of evolution" so far as society's protection against criminals is concerned.

The trouble with the police, the committee found, is lack of intelligence. A little more than twenty-five per cent of Cleveland's patrolmen were on the moron grade of feeble mindedness. Only thirty-three per cent of the Cleveland force was of average intelligence, according to army intelligence tests.

DETROIT, Feb. 28.—The "flivver" plane in which Harry Brooks, 25-year-old aviator, lost his life in a crash at Melbourne, Fla., will be subjected to searching inspection by aircraft experts of the Ford Motor company in the hope of determining what caused the tragic accident, it was learned today.

Henry Ford, who is now in Fort Myers, Fla., will decide the future policy of the company in regards to the "flivver" planes, officials here said.

Successful Flight Of 2,200 Miles To Panama Is Being Resumed

BLIMP TO REFUEL ON REACHING CUBA

Aircraft Carrier Patoka Is In Waiting For Dirigible At Guatanamo Bay

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)

COLON, Panama Canal Zone, Feb. 28.—After a stay of 12 hours in the Panama Canal Zone, the United States navy dirigible Los Angeles left France Field at 10:15 a. m. o'clock for Cuba.

In Canal Zone

BALBOA, Canal Zone, Feb. 28.—The huge U. S. navy dirigible Los Angeles presented a magnificent sight at France Flying Field here today, perched at the top of a mast erected especially for her coming. The dirigible was moored safely at 10:25 last night upon the completion of her longest non-stop flight since she crossed the ocean from Germany.

The ship left her hangar at Lakerust, N. J., at 6:55 o'clock Sunday morning. She made the 2,200-mile flight in 39 hours and 30 minutes averaging slightly less than 60 miles an hour.

Weather conditions were favorable for the departure today of the ship for Guantanamo Bay, where it will refuel from the aircraft carrier Patoka.

Sighted Last Night

The Los Angeles was sighted over Colon at 9:30 p. m. She made her way majestically toward the flight field and her silver sheened sides gleamed brightly as she entered the flood of light directed skyward by huge searchlights at the flying field.

Her mooring was effected after manouvering of about a half an hour without undue trouble. Three hundred soldiers aided in the work of anchoring the ship.

The work of Lieutenant Commander Charles E. Rosendahl and officers and men of the crew in handling the ship was accorded high praise from all sides.

Naval officials hailed the dirigible's feat as a practical demonstration of

Yellow River Overflows Banks Thousands Are Made Homeless In China

PEKIN, Feb. 28.—Eighty villages were inundated and 20,000 persons were made homeless when the Yellow river overflowed and burst its bank at Litsing in the northeast section of the province of Shantung, according to a dispatch received today from the International Famine Relief commission.

This latest catastrophe added to the horror and suffering of residents in the province. Four million Shantungese are now starving from recent droughts and famines, it is reported.

I wish the sun would quit his loafin' and shine the way he really should. I figure Sol could do much better and warm things up, if he but would. I wish he'd rise a wee bit early and warm the earth ere I arise, and put the artists at their duties, a painting blue fields in the skies. I wish he'd call the elfin breezes and have them heat their air a bit, for chilly winds give one the sneezes, and cool wherever they may hit. But all the wishes I may utter will not affect old Mister Sol, he'll keep on working at his duties, as though I'd spoken not at all. But anyhow I wish he'd hurry and warm things up a little more, for all of us want summer weather, it's bright today and thirty-four.

Seven Alleged Mine Rioters Under Arrest

Disorders At Youghiogheny And Ohio Coal Mine Results In Seven Arrests

(International News Service)

STEUBENVILLE, O., Feb. 28.—Disorder at the Youghiogheny & Ohio Coal company's Dorothy mine at Glen Robbins by a crowd of 200 persons who stoned a house in which 11 mine guards were quartered led to the arrest of seven alleged rioters today.

Two automobiles, which brought the guards to the mine, were demolished. The mine was to have been reopened soon.

Deputy sheriffs and deputy U. S. marshals dispersed the mob finally with tear gas bombs. Those arrested were taken to Columbus to face charges of violating a federal court injunction.

It had been planned to start the mine today. When the guards arrived in two machines, intending to make their headquarters in the two company houses, they were met by the mob which included nearly one hundred women.

Rocks were hurled at the guards and the two houses wrecked by a barrage of missiles.

Six strikers were beaten in the melee. Guards used their blackjacks to protect themselves. Three of the guards were badly hurt.

A squad of deputies arrived from the office of Sheriff W. T. Allison and used tear bombs to break up the gathering and stop the rioting.

Colonel Caldwell, representative of Governor Donahey, and Sheriff Allison and his forces were maintaining order this morning.

and others interested in the Hendershot motor in which he urged them to communicate with him before further considering the device. The telegrams stated that Hotchstetter had previous dealings with the inventor on what appears to be the same motor he is now seeking to promote.

Hotchstetter averred that the Hendershot motor employed concealed pencil batteries. When told of this, Hendershot freely admitted using batteries, but said the experiment the incredulous Hotchstetter had reference to was another and distinctly different device.

The motor is to be given further tests in New York under the supervision of the Guggenheim interests. Meantime, Hendershot refuses to become excited over the accusations of his doubters, explaining that many of them are motivated by a desire to have him reveal the secret of his invention for their own profit.

noon and into the night without getting a trace of them.

Organize Great Search.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—One of the greatest aerial searches ever organized was in progress today for trace of three missing naval flyers who disappeared while flying an amphibian plane between Hampton Roads and Annapolis.

By 10:25 o'clock this morning the waters of Chesapeake bay and the shore on either side for a distance of 25 miles were being combed by a searching force comprised of 25 airplanes, both land and water, and by two army dirigibles.

Army and navy authorities collaborated in the search for the missing naval pilots. The territory was blocked out, and each searching ship given a definite area to cover.

when he spoke in the Carnegie auditorium here in the interest of Coolidge's candidacy.

Sometimes real art turns up in the most unexpected places. Monday afternoon Pa Newc happened to wander into the Y. M. C. A. and while he was standing talking to one of the secretaries, someone in the upstairs dining room was putting a piano through a antasmagoria of scales and arpeggios. And soon, he broke into the prize song from The Meistersinger. Yes, the secretary said, many men use the piano upstairs for practice, and some of them are rather old and broken down.

With no intent to make this column one of music, Pa Newc must record another incident which also happened Monday afternoon. It was on Washington street and a street car operator came up the street jauntily carrying a violin.

New driver's licenses for all auto drivers in Pennsylvania are due on Thursday, March 1. You must have a driver's license to operate a car, and arrests are threatened of all drivers who are at the wheel and do not have a proper license to drive the car.

More and more it is being realized what a community house, as well as magnificent building and auditorium, New Castle has in the Scottish Rite Cathedral. In addition to providing a place for banquets, public and private meetings, and high class entertainments of all kinds, the immense rooms of the building provide for various other features. Recently a radio show was held in the main dining room, now an auto show is scheduled for the building, and we note that the Kennel Club is figuring on use of some part of the building, for an exhibition during the late spring.

In store windows, many merchants pander to tastes which to the he man with his plate of beans and sinkers, seem somewhat pampered. There one can see all sorts of imports: Strawberries, English Jams, Russian cavair, and Chinese ginger, artichokes, poppy seeds and foreign pastries. All is grist that comes to their mills.

One of the most ingenious contraptions of this age of marvels is on display in one of the store windows in the down town district. It is the money changer extraordinary. In one end of the machine a dollar bill is fed, and presto, when it rolls out at the other end, it has been changed into a five dollar bill. Likewise, when the five dollar bill is fed into the other end, it comes out a one. Now you try and figure how it works.

U. S. DIRIGIBLE LEAVES PANAMA AFTER SHORT STOP the feasibility of using dirigibles for long distance flights.

Portable Mooring Mast

The portable mooring mast to which the ship was anchored was constructed in the United States under the direction of Commander Rosendahl and was shipped to the Canal Zone about two weeks ago.

The dirigible's successful flight was originally planned three years ago, but was abandoned at that time because of a shortage of helium gas.

The ship performed up to expectations in every way, although Commander Rosendahl declared after the landing that weather conditions had not proved as favorable as had been expected. The inclement weather encountered by the ship was given as the reason for its tardy arrival. It had been expected by six p. m.

A huge throng had collected at the field when the anchorage was made. Roads leading to the field were jammed with vehicles of every description.

Ground lights on the field and red lights atop the hangars and houses on the field intermingled to add to the glamour of the scene.

SLIGHT ACCIDENT.

Floyd Lusk, 2 East Leasure avenue, reported that he was driving east on Moody avenue today, when at the intersection of Mercer street, a machine bearing Pennsylvania license 904-228 and going north on Mercer street, ran into and damaged his car.

WESTMINSTER GIVEN HONORS

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON Pa., Feb. 28.—Announcement was made in chapel yesterday that Westminster is again placed on the accepted list of the Association of American Uniiversities for a three-year term. This ranking which is exclusive and uncommon for small colleges assures Westminster students and graduates of university and college club privileges in any town or city and also assures the transfer of credit privileges with all graduate colleges in the country.

Data submitted to the association committee in December was accepted. The official notification places Westminster on this exclusive list for another three-year period. At the termination of the period another survey and investigation of the institution will be made into the resources both physical and educational, of all the colleges and universities on the list. At that time Westminster will be in an even better position to meet the required standards.

LINDBERGH COIN DISAPPROVED

COLONEL LINDBERGH would be the first to approve the stand taken by Secretary Mellon against minting $20,000,000 in special half dollars commemorating the young flier and his history-making flights. The aviator and secretary of the treasury differ only in their reasons for opposing the special coin. Lindbergh would not admit that he was deserving of the honor, while Mellon feels the honor is due the flier but an embarrassing and costly precedent would be established.

Simultaneously with the proposal to coin a Lindbergh half dollar came a suggestion to mint a similar coin in honor of "Uncle Joe" Cannon, and had either proposal been approved future sessions of congress would try to outdo each other in finding new heads and events to stamp on coins.

Of what value are such special coins? Some sentiment is attached to them at the time of their mintage, it is true. And after all but a few of them have been lost or melted for their metal the remaining few become valuable as rare coins. Another use they have been put to is to raise money for erecting monuments. All in all, they are more expensive than beneficial to the nation.

Those who would honor great Americans and great American events should adopt the suggestion of Secretary Mellon that they cast suitable medals. Thus would the federal government be spared unnecessary expense and from the sale of the medals could be obtained sufficient money to erect a more lasting monument to the memory of their inspiration.

FUELLESS MOTOR

COLONEL LINDBERGH'S reported inspection of a motor which operates without fuel, apparently by the use of terrestrial magnetism, has suddenly brought a fledgeling invention to world attention. The principle, discovered by a young man in Pittsburgh who was in the habit of tinkering in the cellar of his home, may very well be epochal in its promise. But it would be a positive harm to place too sanguine reliance upon it while it is still in the experimental state.

From the scientific point of view there is no more reason to be skeptical of a motor which will transform magnetic force into serviceable energy than there was of the discovery of induced currents a century ago.

Doubtless the first crude and feeble model motors which were based on that discovery were stupendous in their day. But we accept marvels very casually nowadays, as witness radio in all its amazing phases.

The Hendershot fuelless motor may solve a problem which tremendously involves the future of human civilization; but in its present stage of development it seems to be a rebuke both to the skeptics and the over-confident.

LIMIT OF ENDURANCE

THAT Kentucky mule which is reported to have demolished a small car with its bare hoofs appears, from the disclosed facts in the case, to have a fair measure of defense. The flivver crowded the animal and bumped it in the rear. That in itself was an insulting injury which no self-respecting mule with a pair of heels in working order could be expected—even by the most zealous pacifist—to ignore. As the flivver foolishly remained within range, the mule, acting within its rights and maintaining mule traditions, proceeded to loose a volley of kicks that reduced the offender to a junk pile.

It is a fair supposition that into every lunge of hoofs went vengeance for innumerable and cumulative wrongs and insults debited on the mule ledger to the account of the flivver—for mocking honks of horns, for stifling clouds of dust raised under the nose, for crowding off highways, for blinding flashes of lights and many other injuries to mule dignity and pride and peace.

Truly, there are limits to endurance of wrong and insults beyond which no mule, any more than man, is called upon to go. And that limit, both flivvers and men sometimes learn, is passed by aggressors at their peril.

In "Gulliver's Travels" there is a race of horses, the Houyhnhnm, that rules man, and treats him as he is accustomed to treat his horse. If there is ever a Houyhnhnm race of horses in real life, let automobile, truck and tractor beware. Many have been the wrongs suffered by the equine race at the hands of gasoline-propelled vehicles.

ENTANGLING LOANS

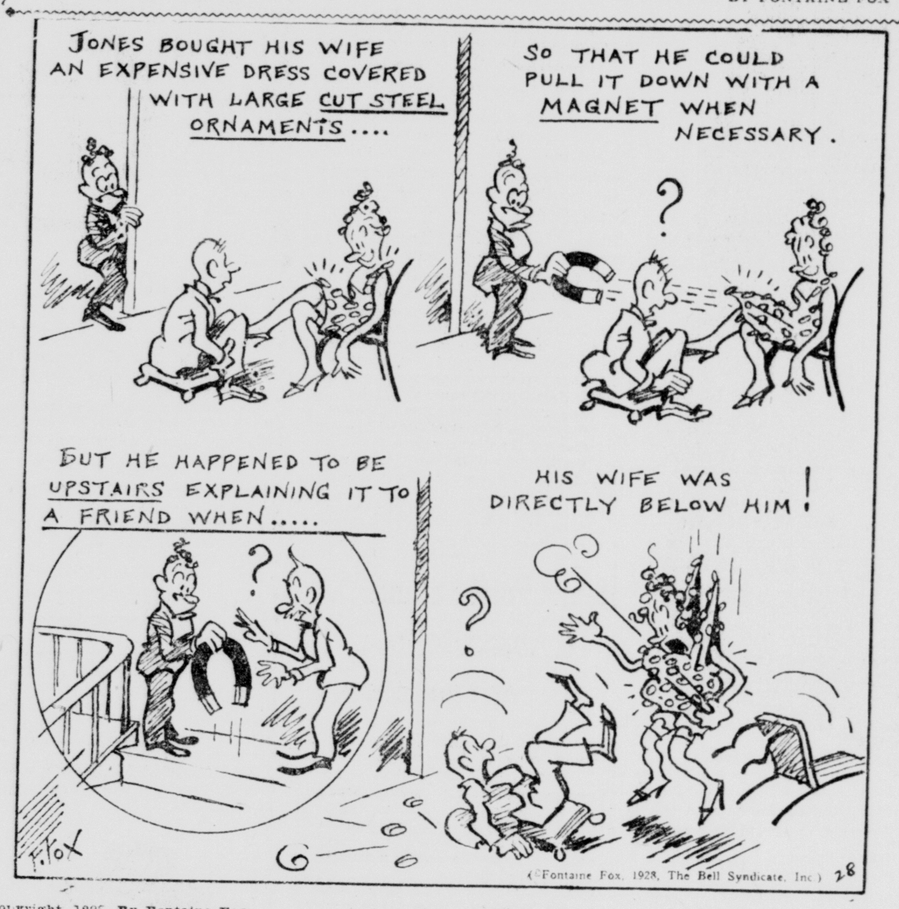

OPINION is again divided in this country on the question whether private investors here should lend money to Russian corporations and the Russian government at a time when the United States does not recognize a government in Russia.

Since the early days of the Harding administration the state department has been giving approval and disapproval of foreign loans. That policy was accepted by financial interests and the public alike as necessary in the disordered days following the war. But it has been under attack lately as being unnecessary interference with business.

Those who are investing in Russian securities argue that it is their money and their risk, and they cannot see how they are involving their government in international difficulties. Another argument on their side is that before the United States can sell goods to Russia American capital must help Russia to acquire economic stability.

This government has refused to recognize the soviet government until it gives evidence of good faith in international relations, recognizes honest debts made by the old regime and ceases its alleged subversive activities against other nations. These demands are doubtlessly the reasons why the state department is opposed to new Russian loans.

Hints and Dints

Sun sets tonight 5:51. Sun rises tomorrow 6:36.

The Ford of the flying world, the cheap aeroplane is with us. It's status is such as to indicate that flying is soon to become one of the major sports of the day. Any place is good if you can find an air taxi to take you to your destination.

It is said that New York sets the pace in most everything for the balance of the country. But did you ever stop to think that is is the guy from some small out of the way place who first sets the pace for New York. Every so-called "hick" to quote our New York friends, is a potential leader of his fellow countrymen. Why go to New York to do something? Why not make a start back in the country and make New York look up to us.

This is the season of the year, when many of us pay a little more attention to our spiritual needs and try to think better of the other fellow. It's as good a time as any to make this our year around practice.

Our birthday anniversary is not so far away. There's going to be a lot of homes in Lawrence county brightened on March 12 by the arrival of a little boy or girl and we're planning to welcome them with a little gift just because they happened along on our anniversary.

There's one thing sure, the boy or girl born on February 29, this year will not be bothered with many birthdays whether their stay on this old earth is long or short. They may miss them when they are young but when they're a little older they will probably be blad of so few reminders of the passing of time.

We note that the "dance marathon" championship now belongs to the Pittsburgh district. There was once a time when the word "marathon" had a meaning that meant something in the world affairs. Now it means little more than a tribute to idleness. And there are those who worship at that shrine.

Italy is to sooner or later erect a tariff wall to protect its home industries and strangely enough the United States is the principal object of this move. Although it is generally admitted that the standard of life here is higher than most any place else, yet we manufacture more cheaply than the homeland of Mussolini. It would be well for Italy to remember that a tariff is a two-edged sword and cuts both ways.

We are beginning to believe that the Communists who pride themselves as being the only working people of the world are in reality the aristocracy of those who labor. The Communists of England have been ordered by the Third International in Moscow to fight for seats in the British parliament held by members of the Labor party and Trade Union Council.

Hungary is due for a severe reprimand from the League of Nations council because of the destruction of five carloads of Italian machine guns bound for Hungary. Nice way to show appreciation of the financial assistance rendered that country by the League in the reconstruction of that country. Then, too, is the question of what need there was for the guns in the first place.

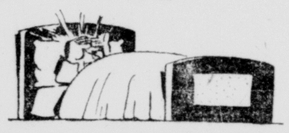

S. Forry Laucks, 57, wealthy manufacturer of York, Pa., is being sued for $500,000 by Miss Ingebrod Wistedt, 16, of York, Pa., for an alleged attack on her. Possibly just another case of when you would dance, you should expect to pay for the music.

Hildegrad Braun, wife of a baker in a small German town, has just presented her husband with the 13th consecutive pair of twins. It's the first time we ever heard of a baker's dozen being 26. Don't that beat the Dutch?

From Sardinia comes the story of the bandit who was himself killed the other day but not until he had established a record of seven murders and one attempted murder. All his murders were due to family feuds. Makes one feel safer in this country where there may be family quarrels but where revenge is not considered so necessary.

Threatened lockout of 800,000 metal workers of Germany has been averted a press dispatch tells us. A small increase in wages agreed to by the manufacturers through the efforts of the government, tells the story. But of course the rest of the people must foot the bill.

Pittsburgh fire captain has been given a year in jail and been disenfranchised for four years for election cheating. Pretty severe penalty but when you consider that he was tampering with one of the greatest rights of an American citizen, not so much after all. Why some people are glad to spend five years for a chance to become a citizen.

In the good old days a successful party didn't put anybody in bed next day except the hostess.

The bill authorizing an additional $100,000,000 for postoffice and federal buildings throughout the country has been approved by President Coolidge. This means much to New Castle as it will get its needed postal improvements out of this sum.

Big cuts made by the house committee in the American naval program especially the deletion of ten heavy cruisers has been received with great satisfaction in England. It has demonstrated, once more, that the government of the United States was sincere when it peladed for naval disarmament. As much might not be said of the other signataries of the original curtailment agreement.

The first object of Great Britain's foreign policy is to seek peace and whenever necessary, to help enforce it says the English ambassador to this country. A most worthy object, especially when a nation is as powerful as the British Empire.

The only difference between a chef and a cook is that a cook doesn't use fourteen spices to hide what he's done.

At least Premier Mussolini of Italy must be given credit for being a firm believer in his native land and the things that tend to make it greater. He demonstrated this the other day, when he presented the parents of triplets, who had been named Italo, Benito and Romano, with a tidy sum of money because their names will tag them as real, honest-to-goodness Italians. It would be nice if we Americans were just as particular in recognizing that little statement, "Made in America".

"Companionship", not "companionate" marriages are the best, declares Jesse Haines, octogenarian of Kokomo, Indiana. He and his wife have lived happily for more than half a century because of a prenuptial companionship agreement. Everybody will admit that there is considerable difference between the so-called marriage of convenience and one that is considered binding for all time.

The greatest enemies of any good cause are the extremists who favor it.

The Soviet government of Russia has just shipped $5,000,000 in gold to two New York banks. There are probably still those among us who would have you believe that Russia is a land of chaos. This would indicate otherwise, and it is a wise nation that recognizes the fact that Russia is a giant among the nations of the world and possessor of unlimited wealth which should be permitted to circulate and benefit the world at large.

Did you happen to notice that the net income of the railroads of the United States for every mile of railways was $53? A pretty good indication that this country is still a land of plenty and great opportunities.

A gigantic merger of bituminous coal mining companies is said to be in the process of formation. There is one thing that might be said in favor of such a combination, and that is the fact that the stockholders will probably reap the benefit.

Once more the work of increasing the good road mileage of Lawrence county is under way. It will have to be admitted by fair-minded persons that good roads have done more than anything else to put New Castle on the map.

Modern women seldom resort to tears, but there isn't much left to cry for.

How to entice our abler young men into politics? Let all officeholders wear spurs.

Typical man: One who yearns to have a son, to pass a law and to start a magazine.

1890: "They're middle-class; she does her own washing." 1928: "They're middle-class; they wash their own car."

A child is too old to spank when it is too old to need it.

Woman's charms are her weapons. So the law against concealed weapons isn't wholly ignored.

Even in a dry district, however, there is enough moisture to prepare the political dirt for mud-slinging.

Americanism: A belief in equality with those above you, never with those below.

Impudence: A quality that appears in other people soon after you develop swellhead.

The remainder of the winter will be hard on those who live by selling official Mexican documents.

Another thing you can say with candy: "You suit me, Honey; I don't like the skinny ones."

"The self-made men in the ranks of the great are more domineering than the other kind." What other kind?

All sin is deliberate. No man ever surrendered to a temptation while keeping his mind on something else.

How much worse it would be if we were born old and had to look forward to growing young and silly.

War necessary? Well, you could solve the problem of an ingrowing toe nail by sawing your leg off, but there are easier ways.

GOSSIP IS—

A result of the lack of anything really worth while to say.
The meanest child of an idle brain and a busy tongue.
The easiest thing to start and the hardest thing to stop.
Always ready to damn the reputation of him who dares to be different.
One thing that never influences the decisions of the Almighty.
Something most folk will listen to but for which no one will assume responsibility.
Usually a half truth mounted on the wings of malice and imagination.

Today

No Two Legged Machine.
Wireless Flight Perhaps.
She Made Angel Cake.
Cheating His Wife.

By ARTHUR G. BRISBANE
(Copyright, 1928, by N. Y. American, Inc.)

R. J. Wensley, inventor of a mechanical man that unveiled a statue of George Washington, believes that men made of metal will liberate us from industrial slavery, as Washington liberated us from European tyranny.

Workers need not fear that metallic "robots" will ruin the labor market. Long ago mechanical men and women made their appearance in machinery of all kinds driven by steam and electricity. One machine does the knitting for 10,000 women, one locomotive pulls the load of a thousand stage coaches, replacing 1,000 drivers.

The perfected machine will not be an imitation man standing upright on two legs. That position man achieved to look out over high grass for enemies and prey in the beginning and to look up at the stars later. Mechanical men can be only an interesting curiosity, not an industrial success. Science improves on nature and does not imitate it, the ultimate flying machine without bird wings or methods will prove that.

A new flying machine idea based on "free energy" or "magnetic" power interests Lindbergh and others. It burns no fuel, is expected to fly for two thousand hours, and Lester J. Hendershot, the inventor, is full of hope. It is only hope as yet, although the working model performs well. Eventually, no doubt, as Tesla and others believe, flying machines will pick up "wireless power" from the earth, borrowing from Niagara, the Colorado river and other sources as they fly around the world. That will solve power problems and 1,000 miles an hour speed will annihilate distance.

This will interest farmers' wives. Mrs. James Hamilton of Pawhuska, Okla., not satisfied with 30 cents a dozen for eggs, developed this idea. She knew how to make good angel cake. Eleven eggs make a cake that will sell for a dollar. Cost of other ingredients amount to little. Mrs. Hamilton put her eggs in angel cake and got nearly one dollar a dozen.

Many farm wives, however, far from any angel cake market, can sympathize with an Irish farmer asked by an efficiency man, "Do you know what the ducks swimming in that mudhole would be worth in London?"

"I do," replied the farmer, "and have you any idea what that puddle of water would be worth in hell if I had it there?" The market is the problem.

Thomas Hardy, novelist and writer of poetry, dead at 87, left half a million dollars. He orders an edition of his poems at a reasonable price within reach of poorer readers. And to his wife, 40 years younger than he, in whose arms he died, Hardy leaves $3,000 a year, and that will be cut in half if she remarries.

The "poorer readers" could get along without Hardy's poems, for Hardy as poet can be fairly described as Lowell unfairly described Wordsworth, that divinely inspired, wise, deep, tender, grand bore. Only Hardy's great age, which sometimes hardens heart and brain, can excuse such treatment of a wife who gave up a promising career to marry an old man.

Delegates of the Cincinnati Conservatory of Music hunting strange folk songs heard an Alaska Indian youth singing "My Love is Like a Fish." Human beings always compare a loved one to something they admire. In the Congo, where "the fatter the lady the greater her beauty," a man would compare his lady love to a fat hippopotamus and consider it a great compliment. The wealth-loving civilized compared his lady's hair to gold, teeth to pearls, lips to coral or rubies. No great difference.

Stalin, who rules Russia, with Lenin dead and Trotzky sent into exile, says millions of workers throughout the world are ready to join Russia's Red army when it starts conquering. If Stalin relies on that, he has awaiting him a surprise as complete as the one he prepared for Trotzky. If the "Red army" starts marching every other country will raise a labor army to stop it. All armies are 90 per cent labor armies and all men forget theories and fight for their country when war comes.

A French flier surpasses the American "loop record" by turning 1,111 aerial somersaults with a monoplane in four hours and 56 minutes. That is exactly as unimportant as the number of back somersaults turned by a circus actor. It is thinking and inventing that count, not "stunts".

MY LIFE

I have a life I can't escape,
A life that's mine to mold and shape.
Some things I lack of strength and skill,
I blunder much and fumble; still,
I can in my own way design
What is to be this life of mine.

It is not mine to say how much
Of gold and silver I shall clutch.
What heights of glory I shall climb,
What splendid deeds achieve in time;
Lacking the genius of the great
The lesser tasks may be my fate.

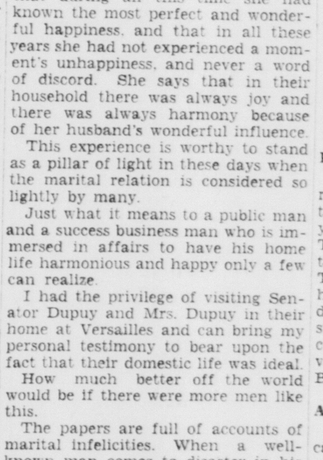

But I shall say what I shall be,
What in my life the world shall see;
Can mold my thoughts and actions here
To what is fine or what is drear.
Though weak my skill, I can elect
To keep or lose my self-respect.

No man can kindlier be than I,
No man can more detest a lie.
I can be just as clean and true
As my gifted genius, who
Rises to earthly heights of fame
And wins at last the world's acclaim.

I can be friendly, blithe of heart,
Can build or tear my life apart,
Can happy-natured smile along
And shrug my shoulders at wrong.
I only choose what is to be
This life which symbolizes me.

Dr. Crane's Editorial

DUPUY

Somehow the item in the papers escaped my attention at the time it was published and I have only recently heard of the death of my friend, Senator Dupuy, of Paris.

Mr. Dupuy was a remarkable man. He had built up a newspaper, the Petit Parisien, which was said to have the largest circulation in the world. He also published some other papers.

He was active in French politics and always an affable and courteous gentleman.

Sometime ago he visited the United States with his wife. He made a very favorable impression.

But perhaps the most remarkable thing about Senator Dupuy is his marital achievement.

He lived with Mrs. Dupuy, who was an American girl, for over twenty years, and her testimony to him is that during all this time she had known the most perfect and wonderful happiness, and that in all these years she had not experienced a moment's unhappiness, and never a word of discord. She says that in their household there was always joy and there was always harmony because of her husband's wonderful influence.

This experience is worthy to stand as a pillar of light in these days when the marital relation is considered so lightly by many.

Just what it means to a public man and a success business man who is immersed in affairs to have his home life harmonious and happy only a few can realize.

I had the privilege of visiting Senator Dupuy and Mrs. Dupuy in their home at Versailles and can bring my personal testimony to bear upon the fact that their domestic life was ideal.

How much better off the world would be if there were more men like this.

The papers are full of accounts of marital infelicities. When a well-known man comes to disaster in his marriage relation, has a divorce or separation or some such thing, it is given widespread publicity.

Some notice should be taken of those who live happily. There are few achievements that do more credit to a man or woman than to live together happily for many years. Probably there are more of these contented relations than we are aware of. It is refreshing once in a while to find such an outstanding instance as that of Senator Dupuy of conjugal felicity.

A man who has lived twenty or more years with one wife and during all that time has encountered no matrimonial storms is to be congratulated.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

SIC GLORIA TRANSIT.

The "Old Brick Capitol"—the historic building on Capitol Hill, Washington, where Congress met from 1815-19, soon will be only a memory, for this national landmark is shortly to be torn down, condemned by the government, to make way for the Supreme Court Building. The beginning of the end took place on the morning of February 6th before Justice Hitz in the District Supreme Court when three freeholders were selected as the Commission to determine the value of the historic "Brick Capitol" and all properties in the block in which it stands now to be taken over for the Supreme Court Building.

The old mansion, directly facing the Capitol, has as fascinating a history as any building now standing in Washington can boast. In 1814 the British had destroyed by fire the Capitol and other government buildings, and Congress was without a home. A proposal to move the Capitol of the nation to another city was gaining adherents on all sides. The citizens of Washington memorialized Congress to keep the Capitol there. Funds were appropriated and the building now known as the "Old Brick Capitol" was erected; Congress moved in and stayed there until the new Capitol was built.

In the lofty rooms of the building the voice of James Monroe was heard taking the oath of office as President of the United States; the booming voices of Webster and Clay in debate; the hushed whispering about the death-bed of John C. Calhoun who died there in 1850; the noise of printing-presses when Anne Royal of Virginia edited and printed her "Paul Pry", a political weekly in this building. Then, in the sad years of 1860-65 the sound of sentries pacing the corridors and the clanking of arms when the house became a Federal prison for the confinement of prisoners of war. With the close of the Civil War, there was again much happy commotion and young voices when the famous building was divided into three separate dwellings.—Chief Justice Field of the Supreme Court in one, Mrs. Condit-Smith in another and General Dunn occupying the third. In these years, there were music, entertaining, high hospitality with the coming and going of distinguished visitors in the spacious halls. The garden had grown up beautifully to become the setting for the marriage of General Leonard Wood and Miss Louise Condit-Smith.

Finally, in the year 1921, with the purchase of the building by Mrs. Oliver H. P. Belmont, and its presentation to the National Woman's Party a new era in its history began. It became a gathering place for the feminists not only of America but of

POKER FACE

The poker face, the false front, the masked feelings—these manifestations are thought desirable by many young men and some not so young. There is nothing to be proud of in the air of boredom and sophistication. The great steps forward in this world have been taken by men with the drive of enthusiasm. There is no substitute for enthusiasm. Don't conceal it. Don't smother it. It is the very spark of life. Don't put it out. Blow it into flame.

AS TO SUICIDE

Somebody has listed as the chief causes of suicide overwork, financial worry, disappointment in love and ill health. The last three causes are doubtless sound. Most unhappiness comes from these three sources. As to overwork, there is no such thing under the right conditions. Those right conditions include good health, enthusiasm, love of the job.

NOT REASON ENOUGH

Assuming that most unhappiness comes from the three causes—financial worry, ill health and disappointment in love—how foolish it is to be made miserable by conditions that are usually curable. Financial worry can be avoided by the will power to save and be economical. Ill health can generally be cured by the will power to live in accordance with the rules

HISTORY

History always has been a fascinating study, but until recently few people knew about it. Histories used to be written in such ponderous style that only the most persistent students ever plowed through them and learned the interesting story of the human race and its growth upon the earth.

There were charming histories of countries, of course. I believe that many Americans of middle age today owe their love of their own country's history to the Barnes history that was used in so many public schools a generation ago. That was the American history that contained such a romantic picture of Phil Sheridan, riding helter-skelter down the Shenandoah valley, crying, "Turns boys, turn! We're going back!"

One of my most interesting college courses was based upon Prescott's eight volumes about the Spanish in America. Prescott knew how to write.

But for ages students needed a history of the human race that would coordinate and unify the stories of action and advancement in diverse parts of the planets. Then H. G. Wells wrote his "Outline of History." I have just been re-reading this work in the new one-volume edition, which is made even more readable by the inclusion of plenty of pictures.

Wells is not a profound historian. He does not give much time to research or verification. And he fills his pages with his personal viewpoint and his nationalistic and socialistic prejudices. But his book is a great book, nevertheless. For he has written a book that is a connected story of the activities of the human race. He is a great story-teller, and his story-telling talent has made a greater history for the mass of mankind than the history-telling talent of the great historians ever made.

Hendrik Willem Van Loon writes histories that are not even as scholarly as those of Wells. If such a thing were possible, Van Loon is less a historian than Wells. But Van Loon writes his histories in the vernacular of his audience and his "America" is a book that will be read with profit by thousands who never could find time and energy to plow through a real history, written by a historian.

Thirteen Westminster College Graduates In Reunion Over In Egypt

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Feb. 28.—Dr. W. Charles Wallace, president of Westminster, is in receipt of a letter from a group of 13 Westminster alumni who are stationed in Egypt which tells of the enthusiasm and loyalty of this group to their alma mater.

The letter, dated Feb. 9, reached here Tuesday and was read in chapel. It was sent by Gertrude N. Jamison, class of 1913, who will be remembered as Gertrude Newlin.

An account of the reunion of the 13 Westminster alumni at a college gathering in Tanta in January tells how the Westminster folk celebrated by singing the college songs and cheering. Talk of the new buildings now under construction on the campus and other activities of the school which are learned through reading the Holcad, copies of which, though often months late, are read and reread, made the get-together an enjoyable one.

The Westminster folk at the gathering included Rev. W. H. Reed, '93; Myra Boyd Bell, '96; Rev. R. W. Walker, 98; Rev. F. Scott Thompson, '03; Rev. Willard Acheson, '07; Gertrude N. Jamison, '13; Rev. Brainard Jamison; Evelyn McFarland, '17; Mildred Allison, '20; Clara M. Skellie, '20; Rev. W. J. Skellie, 21; Marie F. Tait, '22; and Elizabeth S. White, '24.

Freshman On Varsity Is Son Of Captain Of Team Of 1898

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Feb. 28.—John Witherspoon of Ben Avon, freshman member of the varsity basketball squad at Westminster, is right in line of tradition in representing the United Presbyterians on the court.

Back in 1898, when Westminster organized its first basketball team, his father, John Boyd Witherspoon, was captain. John senior was graduated from Westminster with the class of 1902.

Young Witherspoon is one of the best of the numerous candidates out for the Westminster varsity. He was an all-scholastic center on the Ben Avon High school team last year. He is a member of Phi Pi Phi fraternity.

Immigrant Total Is Reduced Under New Provisions

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—A reduction of 11,000 in the total of immigrants to be admitted to the United States during the year beginning July 1, is included in the new quotas compiled by a presidential commission composed of Secretaries Hoover, Kellogg and Davis.

The total immigration under the quotas next year will be 153,685.

English immigrants will be nearly double under the new quotas, increasing from 34,000 to 65,894, while sharp reductions will become effective on quotas from Germany, Ireland and Sweden. Other nations entitled to increases include Austria, Italy and Russia.

Charge Federal Officials With Extortion From Disabled Veterans

(International News Service)

BOSTON, Feb. 28.—A Federal grand jury investigation of the official workings of the United States Veterans' Bureau in this city will be made next week, according to Assistant U. S. Attorney John P. Spalding today. Spalding will be in charge of the probe.

The investigation follows the arrest of Dr. Isadore Green and Arthur Williams of the Bureau, on charges of extortion. Other arrests were expected.

Captain William J. Blake, regional director of the Bureau, will cooperate with Spalding in the investigation as will L. C. Blake of the Department of Justice.

Captain Blake said he desired to get testimony from any disabled veteran who feels that he has been "shaken down" by Bureau employes. All such veterans were asked to communicate with the investigating officers.

THIN PEOPLE NEED THIS HELP

Excessively thin people are really not well. Nature makes provisions for a fair degree of plumpness in all her creatures, and its absence is neither healthful nor beautiful.

Many people fail to get full value from the food they eat simply because digestion isn't right. One of the commonest causes of imperfect digestion is a catarrhal trouble. The stomach is lined with the same membrane that covers the throat and nose, and it is subject to the same catarrh.

Beauty Is Restored

Then digestion is interfered with, and food fails to yield its full value in body building materials. Sometimes sour stomach is frequent, usually constipation is present.

This condition often brings about extreme thinness, and the cause is not known to the victim. World's Tonic, the great catarrh remedy, usually conquers such cases quickly.

A pleasing roundness succeeds the angles, the figure is developed, the complexion clears of its sallowness, and the eyes sparkle with health. Thousands know of the value of this great medicine. You may derive wonderful benefits from its use. World's Tonic is for sale at Paisley's, McKee's Kut Rate Store, Smith's, Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc. and all good druggists.

"I was so thin everybody joked about it, and I was ashamed myself. All I ate did not seem to help me. My druggist told me about World's Tonic. I took it and gained 20 pounds in four months. More than that, it made me feel so strong and well that I have forgotten how to worry.

Noise And Speed

By IDAH McGLONE GIBSON

A few years ago one of the largest stage producers in America put on in New York an all-star cast in "Midsummer Night's Dream".

Unlike many of these advertised casts of star actors, this one was made up of well-known artists whose names stood high on the scroll of fame.

The director was well known in his business and the rehearsals went forward smoothly and everyone was happy.

The last week before the opening of the play the great producer visited the theater where the rehearsals were going on. He entered after the lights were turned down and those on the stage did not know he was there until they were startled by the word "stop" hurled at them from out the blackness in front of the footlights. They were surprised into silence even before the man who was putting up the money for their play made his appearance from the wings.

"You are doing this all wrong," he bellowed. "You do not seem to know what you are playing." This to a number of players who had gained their reputations as Shakespearian actors.

"You have not the faintest conception of how a comedy should be acted. What I want in this play is noise and speed."

He got it, and the great success of the Shakespearian revival proved that the popular producer, if he could not understand the peculiar measure in which the English dramatist wrote, could not only guage the public of his time, but presage its taste for many years to come.

Every day the people of America seem to be living in an atmosphere of greater speed, while the attendant and diverse noises that prevail everywhere seems almost to split the sensitive eardrum.

Since every home today is not considered complete without a radio, which goes all day and usually all night, and to whose raucous noise no one seems to pay the slightest attention, except to be uncomfortable when the combination of cheap jazzy music and the static is missed.

Every family must have at least one motor car, and the younger ones are dancing every night to a jazz band. It looks as though the most necessary concomitant of modern life is noise and speed.

rights throughout the United States and every place subject to its jurisdiction.

"Congress shall have power to enforce this article by appropriate legislation."

Agitation in Massachusetts

The resolution was referred to the committee on the judiciary. Meanwhile agitation for the passage of such amendment is being carried on in several of the states—among them Massachusetts.

In an attempt to enlighten the voters of this state, Miss Rogatz and Young crossed their verbal lances.

With devastating gallantry, Young (who was speaker of the state's house of representatives for many years) contends that women really are a privileged people, and should not be robbed of the special legislations which have been enacted for them—such as shorter hours, etc.

Young expressed the view that the adoption of an equal rights amendment would rob women of advantages already gained—in industrial legislation, welfare activities, and kindred fields. In many states, laws favor women in these regards. And he furrowed his brow as he touched on the subject of alimony—for here it has been that the man usually pays.

Girl Lawyer's Contentions

Taking the reverse English, Miss Rogatz, who practices her law in New York City, when she isn't speaking for the Woman's party, pointed out that sex has nothing to do with the matters under discussion. If legislation and regulations are necessary they should be based upon the nature of the work, and what not, but not upon gender.

She flaunted a list of legal discriminations now existing in the United States—and they floored her opponent for a long count.

When the man opponent raised the question of abolishing special legislation, which has been enacted in many states for the protection of prospective mothers, the girl came back:

"And what about protecting prospective fathers?"

Believes Alimony Reversible

Had he gone on to ask her about alimony, she would have told him that it should work both ways—with the wife paying the man, if he were unable to support himself, and she were able.

There was no official verdict rendered after the bout. So this battle cannot go down in the official Yale-Harvard columns. But popular acclaim gave the decision to the Yale girl.

THE MYSTERIOUS BODY

Personality and the chemicals that make up the human body seem to be related. Science is studying the relationship. Perhaps we may some day cure grouchiness and all sorts of bad temper by physical treatment. It is found the excitable type of person generates less acid than his calm neighbor. The blood of good-natured people seems to contain less phosphorous than that of crabby folks. No doubt a definite relationship has been established. What to do about it is the next question.

We all know many people who are ill-tempered, grouchy, over-sensitive, when they really do not want to be. They would like to be pleasant. They crave happiness. They can't quite seem to achieve it. It is good news that scientific inquiry may lead to some cure for this sort of thing.

the world, and the headquarters in this country of work for the freedom and equality of women.

Architecturally, inside and out, the house is unspoiled. When it was presented to the Woman's Party, it was agreed that the simple character of the building should be preserved. For the last five years, the National Woman's Party, with much expenditure of money and time, has labored to bring this about. As the result of gifts of antique furniture from branches of the organization in various states, the interior of the house began to take on the character it must have had a century ago.

The condemnation proceedings sealed the doom of the famous landmark. Time has mellowed the white of its painted front, trees taller each year cast gentle shadows across its face, and in the spring flowers bloom in the beautiful gardens surrounding it. In the midst of a hurrying world, the old house stands serene, some distance back from the street, removed from the strife and noise of life about, waiting its fate. There are probably few houses of such authentic history and so charming manner left in the Capitol and its destruction will be a real loss to historic Washington.

DETROIT, Feb. 28.—Lieut. Bernt Balchen, formerly of the Norwegian navy, and a member of Commander Richard Byrd's crew on both his north pole and trans-Atlantic air voyages, is in Detroit today.

Balchen landed in Byrd's new trimotor Fokker plane at Deaborn at 6:15 last night, after its maiden voyage, a nonstop flight from New York here. This is the plane which will be the nucleus of Byrd's forthcoming Antartic expedition this summer, on which Balchen will serve as a pilot.

In the plane with him were Thomas V. Mulroys and Charles Reid. Both Commander Byrd and another of his flying staff, Floyd Bennett, were expected to arrive here by Ford Motor officials, but neither came.

How long Balchen will remain here could not be learned. He possibly will see Edsel Ford today.

Two Beaver County Postmasters Removed

By GEORGE H. MANNING
Special Correspondent New Castle News

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—Two Beaver county postmasters were ordered discharged today for playing high and loose with Uncle Sam's cash. Both cases will be turned over to the United States district attorney for prosecution.

Robert C. Simpson was ordered removed at Woodlawn.

Representative J. Howard Swick was asked to recommend his successor and named W. R. Troxel, 1104 Main street. Troxel is chief clerk at the Jones and Laughlin plant at Woodlawn. He will take the civil service examination shortly with a view to getting the regular four-year appointment, which pays $3,000 a year. Simpson is charged by the postal inspector with gross irregularities in the finances of the office and with a score of other violations of the postal rules.

At Industry, Pa., a postal inspector making a periodic checkup has removed Postmaster Smith W. Todd on account of an alleged shortage of $1,200 in his accounts and has put Arthur W. Ewing in as acting postmaster. This job pays $679 annually.

CLUB WOMEN AT WORK

Conducted By The Woman's Club Of New Castle

The women of Mississippi and Arkansas are planning and bringing into being more and better service for the home and more and better use of such service in the home, while engineers throughout the country are trying to domesticate mother nature and the men are busy planting crops. As the waters of the flood receded the attention of state and nation was riveted upon bringing the devastated regions into crop producing condition and preventing further floods. Men thought of "means of earning a living", while the women leaders thought of "living". Both states are busy putting into the homes running water, tubs, toilets and sinks and wherever possible gas and electricity. This has been done by various means such as exhibits, demonstrations, state fairs, etc.

A flower plot at the entrance to the bridge over the canal at Reheboth Beach, Del., has been given in charge to the village improvement club of women. This spot was beautified by planting all the old-fashioned annuals during the summer. Bulbs and flowering shrubs have been planted for spring. The Delaware Federation gave a beautiful tea for the upkeep of this plot.

Among the most vivid and valued of the General Federation of Women's Clubs are the several hundred Indian club women of Oklahoma. Through their veins course the blood of Cherokee, Choctaw, Chickasaw, Delaware and Sioux tribes. These women are principally concerned with the betterment of their own people. Many of them, having been highly educated themselves, wish to see that their advantages are passed along. Mrs. Eugene B. Lawson of Nowata, a granddaughter of the last tribal chief of the Delawares, is a past president of the Oklahoma Federation and is now chairman of the music division in the General Federation. She is also a candidate for second vice president of the General Federation in the coming elections. Mrs. Lawson has been made chairman of the building committee to erect a $250,000 Indian museum on the University of Tulsa campus. This museum will be dedicated to the Indian tribes of Oklahoma and will house relics of the days when Tulsa was part of the Indian Territory and Tulsa University was an Indian mission school.

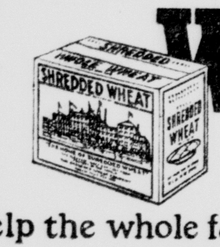

New Hampshire clubs are doing splendid welfare and educational work. The Antrim Woman's Club pays the salary of a teacher of music in the public schools. They purchased three Orthophonic Victrolas last year for the schools, sponsored four children's clinics and purchased children's books for the public library. Littleton Colonial Club furnished a room in the new high school, maintained a room at the hospital and provided a story hour for 100 children at the library each week. Groveton's Woman's Club assisted a student in college and raised $200 toward a clubhouse fund.

Ebell Club of Oakland, Cal., celebrated its 51st birthday on December 13, with the proud claim of being the oldest woman's club on the coast and the second oldest in the United States.

Miss Mabel T. Boardman, secretary of the American Red Cross, in an address before the executive board of the General Federation, told about the new memorial building to the American women in the World War. This building will be in Washington and will have 16 columns. Many of them have already been subscribed to at $5,000 each as special memorials either to individuals or groups. The four eastern columns have been set aside for four great groups of women. One has been given by the Knights of Columbus and one to commemorate the women who worked for the Y. M. C. A. and the Y. W. C. A. It is hoped one will be taken to commemorate the work done by the women who worked with the Jewish welfare board. The fourth is being held as a special memorial for Dr. Anna Howard Shaw and the women's committee of the Council of National Defense. A service for humanity will be carried on in this building. It will be devoted to the development of chapter activities and become a laboratory and experiment station for these services. It will be, therefore, more than a memorial of beauty, but a memorial that carries on the very services it commemorates.

PETER'S ADVENTURES in ANIMAL LAND

BY MRS. FLORENCE SMITH VINCENT

SAPSUCKER STARTS UPON HIS

Nuthatch hopped away to find his wife, and Downy Woodpecker bowed jerkily to Peter.

"It is a great pleasure to know you, boy," chirped he, politely. "But I couldn't think of having you leave the tree without meeting my wife. She would be so disappointed. Chink, Chink! where are you my dear? You have a caller!"

"Right here, husband. How are you, two-legs? I would invite you to step into the house but as you can see for yourself, there isn't much room. Husband made a doorway just large enough for us to enter, and I am afraid you couldn't squeeze thru."

There in the trunk of the tree high above his head was an open doorway, and it was beyond this little hope in the bark that the boy caught sight of Mrs. Downy. Before he could do more than thank her for her interest a harsh voice broke in upon them.

"Kee-yer hat a fat worm that was! Here my dear, it is your turn to eat now. I have dined upon so many sneak thieves this morning that I am actually weary. How about that hollow branch there? Tap, tap! If you ask me I think that is just the place for our new nest."

"Anything that suits you Flicker, suits me!" remarked another bird voice, pleasantly. "You are a good husband and never yet have you failed to help me hatch the effs. As long as you take your turn sitting upon them doing your duty as a good husband should, I think you have a say in the building of our home! What! You haven't caught another sneak thief?"

"No, why did you ask such a silly question as that? You didn't hear me tap did you?" demanded her husband.

"Well if you aren't tapping who is?" inquired Mrs. Flicker. "Ssh! I told you so! Of course I thought you were hammering again! Who can it be?"

Tap, tap! the knocking grew louder and louder. Then the mystery was solved for the listening group below as well as for Mr. and Mrs. Flicker.

"Good day, everybody!" cried a jolly voice. "How are you my dear cousins and friends? Here I am on my spring spree again. I have had a long fly. My mouth is watering for a drink of sap and I am going to have it!"

UGH – I DON'T LIKE THIS SAP! IT'S TOO BITTER.

"Oh no you aren't, Cousin Sapsucker!" cried Sergeant Flicker.

"Don't let him," echoed his wife.

"Nonsense Sergeant, he needs a bit of refreshment," pleaded Nuthatch from somewhere above their heads.

"He can't do much harm if he only takes one sip!" remarked Downy Woodpecker, "only of course I don't approve of his drinking habit."

"Neither do I," chirped his wife.

"Well it doesn't matter a tail feather, what any of you think!" cried Sapsucker joyfully. "I am going to have my first drink of the season and now. I hope there will be no trouble, but I am going to stand up for my rights if I have to!" Tap, tap! Sip, sip! Ugh I don't like this elm sap much anyhow. It is too bitter. I must quench my thirst though!"

Lucitti Found Guilty By Jury, In Washington, Pa.

Death Penalty Looms For Tony Lucitti, Accused In Slaying Of Officers

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Pa., Feb. 28.—A jury here returned a verdict today of guilty and fixed the death penalty for Tony Lucitti, convicted of murdering coal and iron Policemen Paul R. Fox and Louis O. Knapp at Vestaburg on the night of February 7, 1927.

Lucitti was caught at Elizabeth, N. J., last December 9 in a fight with police officers, and was wanted there to answer to charges of shooting and wounding two Elizabeth policemen. Lucittti was the second to be convicted in connection with the killing of the two coal and iron policemen.

Noted Tenor Here During Coming Week

Richard Crooks To Present Program On Educational Arts Course

When a new artist appears on the musical horizon, the critics, though they know that every artist is like no other artist except himself, nevertheless seldom fail to hunt for comparisons among the older, established artists.

Richard Crooks, who comes to New Castle next week, for instance has often been compared with McCormack and Caruso, but it must immediately be evident to anyone of musical discrimination that these two singers, both among the greatest names in music, differ in almost every salient point. The truth is, Crooks, who has many qualities that remind one of both these artists, is, in the end, like Richard Crooks and no one else.

The quality of his voice and his style of singing is, however, often very strongly reminiscent of John McCormack. This was probably what Glenn Dillard Gunn had in mind when he wrote in the Chicago Herald and Examiner: "In beauty of tone, clarity of diction, Mr. Crooks has the McCormack-like gift of making the English language beautiful in song." In Toledo, the Toledo Times wrote:

"He revealed a voice of such lyric beauty as has not been here since the palmy days of John McCormack." Cyril Arthur Player wrote in The Detroit News: "The voice of Mr. Crooks is as fresh and sweet as one was accustomed to think McCormack's was." "Mr. Crooks is more than a great singer," wrote the critic of another leading Chicago paper, "he has that intelligence and sympathy that, when joined to such gifts, produce great interpretative art. His song invites comparison with that of John McCormack."

But then again, the Boston Transcript states: "His powers are not unlike those of the late Caruso, bearing a marked resemblance in tone and definition of curve and line." Evan Williams, a great singer who in style and manner was quite unlike either McCormack or Caruso, has also figured in connection with Crooks' singing. R. J. McLaughlin, the critic of the Detroit Evening News, wrote: "The last time I heard the Messiah the tenor was Evan Williams, another great man. But Williams never saw the day when he could sing 'Every Valley Shall Be Exalted' with more effect than Crooks."

All of which simply goes to show that Crooks is like no other singer except Crooks. One thing cannot be disputed; that he is "the tenor of the hour", as the Boston Transcript said recently.

Mrs. Burton offers her advice entirely without charge. She has nothing to sell. Letters should be addressed to Mrs. Margaret Burton, 8345 Massachusetts, Kansas City, Mo. 12-YEAR COURTSHIP PLENTY, SO HE'S HUSTLED TO ALTAR

DES MOINES, Feb. 28.—A lady can be expected to wait only about so long. Miss Iva Jane Schuman, 43, intimated when she appeared to obtain a license to marry J. W. Hook, 42.

According to Miss Schuman, Hook has been wasting so much time for the last 12 years that she feared he was never going to get right down to cases and propose marriage so she made use of her leap year perogative and hooked Hook by doing it herself.

She brought him along.

Liquor Violations Against Lodges May Be Dropped, Report

Judge Claims Illegal Raids By Prohibition Officers On Eagles And Elks Clubs

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 28. — Charges of federal prohibition law violators against officials of 31 lodges of Eagles and 20 lodges of Elks in Western Pennsylvania may be dropped by the United States attorney's office here, it was believed today.

Decisions returned by Federal Judge R. M. Gibson in cases against the Coraopolis Elks and the Pitcairn Eagles have furnished the basis for the belief that the other cases will be dropped.

Judge Gibson upheld the contention of the lodges' counsel that the search warrants were illegal because Assistant Prohibition Administrator W. B. Murray, who directed the service of the warrants, did not participate in the raids.

Franklin School Play Postponed

Play To Have Been Held Thursday Postponed Until Tuesday, March 6

The play "Xerxes" which was to have been presented at the Franklin junior high school auditorium Thursday afternoon and evening, March 1, will be postponed until Tuesday afternoon and evening, March 6, on account of conflicting with the senior play "The Tightwad", which is to be presented on Thursday and Friday evenings of this week.

Frank Burton, principal of the Franklin school, states that the committee in selecting the date did not realize the date of the senior high school play and having learned of the conflict, thought best to postpone the play at the Franklin school until next week.

The play to be given next Tuesday will be given under the direction of Miss Esther Gibbons, instructor of music in the school, and will have some 60 boys and girls in the cast, including a chorus of about 30 boys. The story of the play is based on the book of Esther in the Bible and pictures the task Queen Esther had in saving her people from destruction.

Mourn Death Of Oldest Bishop

Episcopalians Throughout Country Mourn Death Of Bishop Talbot

(International News Service)

TUCKAHOE, N. Y., Feb. 28.—Episcopalians throughout the country today mourned the death of Bishop Ethelbert Talbot, the oldest bishop in the Episcopal church. He died at the age of 79 last night at the Tuckahoe home of his daughter, Mrs. Franklin Donaldson.

Bishop Talbot, who retired from active duty last Oct. 1 because of illness, formerly was presiding bishop of the Episcopal church. Previously he was the head of the Episcopal diocese of Bethlehem, Pa., for 30 years. He suffered a stroke in Boston recently and had been failing in health since.

Are you one of the millions who make this mistake?

Make the personal health test and see what one simple change in diet can do for you!

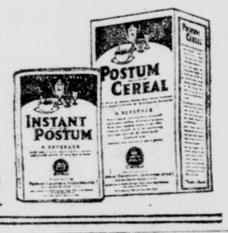

IT'S natural to think that the caffein you take with your meals drives away fatigue—"picks you up." Something does—and isn't caffein a stimulant?

Yes, but caffein doesn't work so fast. It's the warmth of the drink that gives you an immediate sense of comfort. The full effect of the caffein comes later—hours later. Then this drug stimulant whips up your nerves—repels sleep—drives the brain on when every natural impulse may be crying for rest.

Don't be fooled any longer! Change from caffein to Postum! You'll get the mealtime "pick up" you want from Postum's genial warmth and zestful flavor. But afterward, when you want to rest, you can! For Postum is made of roasted whole wheat and bran—no trace of any artificial stimulant in it. Postum never robs you of sleep, never affects the nerves or causes indigestion.

Prove it—this way! Make Postum your mealtime drink for thirty days! Then see how much better you feel! Your grocer has Postum—either Instant Postum, made instantly in the cup, or Postum Cereal, prepared by boiling. Order today!

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

BY MRS. MARY MORTON

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

Do you keep a cooky jar? Is it usually full of home-made cookies, or have you ceased to make them, thinking the commercial product quite satisfying? The old-fashioned cooky jar has its charm, and home-made cookies are wholesome and not so expensive, if one uses discretion. Let's use them for desert, or if you do not care for that, finish breakfast or luncheon with them. The drop cooky is the answer if you have little time to make them.

Pork Shoulder — Mashed Potatoes
Home-made Pickles and Jelly
Chopped Cabbage and Spinach
Cookies — Coffee

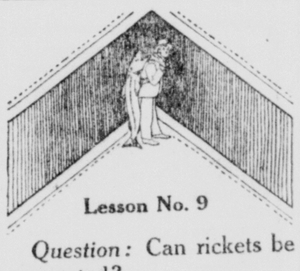

Today's Recipes

Pork Shoulder — Fresh ham may be substituted. Brown all over in its own fat in hot pot. An old-fashioned iron pot is good if you have one. When it is brown add a little water, a sprinkling of powdered, dried sage, a small onion and salt and pepper. Cook at leats one-half hour to the pound, as pork MUST be well done in order to be safely eaten. That is, if you have a six-pound piece of meat you should cook it at least three hours.

Molasses Cookies—One cup brown sugar, one cup shortening — meat drippings, lard, or half butter and half lard, as you wish—one cup molasses, one egg, one tablespoon each cinnamon and ginger, a little salt, flour to roll soft.

Raisin Drop Cookies — One-half cup shortening (scant), one and one-fourth cup light brown sugar, two well beaten eggs, one-third cup milk, two teaspoons baking powder, two cups flour, one teaspoon cinnamon, one-half teaspoon cloves, one-half cup chopped English walnuts, one cup chopped seeded raisins, one-fourth teaspoon salt. Cream the shortening and add sugar. Add milk and well beaten eggs. Add well sifted dry ingredients and nuts and raisins that have been floured. Beat thoroughly and drop from a spoon on baking sheet one and one-half inches apart. Bake fifteen minutes at an oven temperature of about 380 degrees Fahrenheit. The nuts may be omitted.

Soft Brown Sugar Cookies — Two cups light brown sugar, one cup shortening—half lard and half butter or substitute — one-half cup sour milk, two eggs, one teaspoon soda, one teaspoon baking powder, a little nutmeg and salt. Roll soft. Caraway seeds may be added. Before putting into the oven, sprinkle with sugar.

MEADVILLE, Pa., Feb. 28.—Among the numerous sentences handed down by Judge O. Clare Kent, who presided at his first sentence court here today, was that ordering A. G. Rentz Tells Of Visit To Various Points In Great State Of Texas

Another interesting letter has been received from Fred L. Rentz, president of The News company, who with his wife, is making a trip to points of importance in the great southwest. The letter, written from San Antonio, Texas, is as follows:

San Antonio, Tex., Feb. 25. 1928.

George W. Conway,
Editor The News,
New Castle, Pa.

Dear George:—

The last letter I wrote you was from Hot Springs, Ark. Well, we left that place at 10 o'clock last Sunday morning and we got here on Monday at 11 o'clock in the morning, having been on the road about 25 hours going about 600 miles. The train was a through one from Chicago and St. Louis to Mexico City and had been frozen up twice, the first time in Chicago and the other time in St. Louis. It was two hours late when we got it and worse than that when we got off.

Well San Antonio is all it is cracked up to be. It is a wonderful city. It is the rainy season here just now and the people do not try to apologize for the continuous scandalously wet rain. The natives seem used to it and one seldom sees an umbrella.

The population is about 250,000. The city covers a lot of ground. The San Antonio river runs 31 miles in this city and is spanned by 32 bridges. The river is not wide at normal and the way the river bed is kept is wonderful to me. In most places a curb is built in the middle of the stream and the water is confined to this channel. The sides are green with grass and it sure makes a fine effect. This could be worked out wonderfully in the Neshannock creek in New Castle if the dam was removed near the Rosena furnace site. It could be made a regular park on both sides of the stream and when high water came the space outside the curbed part of the stream would be there to take care of the water. Of course the stream could not be made a sewer like it is now in low water. A few birds would have to be killed before order could be had. This river is a thing of beauty every inch of its 31 miles in the city of San Antonio. This little matter is worth my trip to this city alone. It is the satisfaction of seeing what humans can do for one another when they use their brains—and of course a bit of money.

San Antonio has half a dozen or more municipal parks and every one of them is a thing of beauty. All have large swimming pools and every convenience for picnics and outings for the people. Thousands of acres are in parks. Many of them have been given to the people by rich people, but the taxpayers keep them up for the enjoyment of the people living and also the visitors.

There are two or three sunken gardens built in old stone quarries and they are more than wonderful. They are brightly lighted at night and are things of beauty to all who are fortunate enough to see them. New Castle has several places where sunken gardens could be made very easily.

We have noticed that the people are not as fussy about evening dress as they were at Hot Springs. One sees very few fried shirts and hot groceries worn here in any place.

We visited Fort Sam Houstan today. It is a most wonderful place and was worth going to see. It occupies hundreds of acres.

There are several old missions here built by the Franciscian Fathers. Those good men had a great part in making this part of the country the great place it is, by their hard work and suffering in order to help fellow humans and they asked no questions but answered all they were asked. My hat is off to the Franciscian Fathers.

We have met a lot of friends of Herbert Peairs who now has charge of the Scottish Rite Cathedral in New Castle. This is his old stamping ground and we have met a lot of fine gentlemen who say mighty nice things about him. We will tell Peairs what we heard when we meet him.

We had a call from Dr. and Mrs. Nat Kenny. Mrs. Kenny will be kindly remembered back in New Castle as Mary Patterson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George L. Patterson. We had a nice visit with them.

We are located at the New Plaza hotel and are getting along fine.

On Wednesday we went to Laredo which lies 160 miles direct south of San Antonio. We left here by bus at 7 o'clock in the morning. About 40 miles of the road is dirt and the mud was a foot deep in most places and we got into Laredo about three hours late. It was a terrible grind and at times it looked as if the bus was swamped. It was Washington's Birthday and the city of Laredo was more than decorated. And that was not all. Laredo is just at the border of Mexico and is on the Rio Grande river across the international bridge from New Laredo, Mexico. After Washington's Birthday had been properly celebrated on the American side in the forenoon and early afternoon a great bull fight was pulled off in the bull ring in New Laredo Mexico.

A bull fight is a terrible thing. Five innocent bulls were killed at this festival at which the celebrators of Washington's Birthday in the morning in America attended in the afternoon of the same day. The bull fight is to the Mexican apparently what the football and baseball games are to the Americans. At least the Mexicans displayed about the same symptoms at a bull fight as Americans do at the games mentioned. Indian and drunken yells filled the air. Nothing more brutal than a bull fight can be imagined. If the brutality could be confined to the human agitators and the bulls and the horses could be left out of the terrible injuries they receive it seems to us one could stand the fight better. The Mexicans seem to go crazy at the sight of blood and suffering of the bulls and horses. We are glad bull fighting is not tolerated in the United States. Beer is sold in the arena in which the fights take place and no lemonade or pop is asked for. Mexico and Texas were well represented at the fight. Many soldiers carrying guns in their hands and in holsters were in attendance. They were evidently as dumb as they looked and we did not notice any of them doing anything worth while. The papers said it was one of the most successful and brilliant bull fights ever pulled off in this vicinity. One can hardly believe the detailed report of a bull fight. It's just simply terrible and our advice to all humans is never to attend one.

I attended the meeting of the San Antonio Rotary club on Friday at noon. It meets at the St. Anthony hotel on Fridays and is a fine club. This is the home of the former president of Rotary International, Harry Rogers and he has a beautiful home here.

The traffic laws are strictly enforced in San Antonio and jay walkers are arrested just like auto drivers when they go wrong. Not a bad idea. Accidents are fewer under such a system. However it takes a big flock of policemen.

The streets of San Antonio are very crooked. The streets were laid out to follow the old cow paths of the olden days. And they look it.

I noticed in Monday's News where Dr. Cunningham of Ellwood City had died. He left Hot Springs a few days before we arrived there and we called at the place where he had stopped and learned of his leaving. We considered Dr. Cunningham a very dear friend and his death grieves us deeply.

We forgot to state that in Arkansas the gasoline tax is five cents per gallon and in Texas it is three cents a gallon.

About one fifth of the trees we see in our travels in this state along the roads have bunches of mistletoe on them. Mistletoe is a parasite and eventually kills the trees. There is enongh mistletoe in Texas to furnish a canopy large enough to hold all the people in the world that want to be kissed.

Most every city in Texas has a hotel named The Robert E. Lee. Mr. Lee is still thought of here.

There are few people in Southern Texas who can speak English. They mostly speak Spanish. It seems to us there is great room for some home missionary work right in our own country. It is quite evident that Spanish schools are also supported for these people. This country will be far greater when its people speak the great English language and it is our opinion that it is not too soon now to make plans that will culminate in the English language being made the language of Texas. At one railroad station we spoke to a dozen people and not one could even understand English. When others with us also could not be understood when they spoke English we knew for sure they could not speak or understand United States talk.

While in Laredo we stopped at the Robert E. Lee hotel and what was our joy to discover that the beautiful china ware used in that hotel was made at the Shenango pottery in Dear Old New Castle. We want to tell the world that our good friend and fellow citizen James M. Smith is doing a lot to put New Castle on the map of the world. He makes the real stuff and that is why he is successful.

Thursday was the first day this week that it has rained here. The sun was nice and warm that day and we sat by an open window while writing a letter. Men are going without overcoats. Near the Mexican border the weather was hot.

Onions are raised here by the thousands of acres and they are shipped north and east by the train loads. Lettuce and other vegetables are also being sent out from points south of here now.

Texas has great soil and about everything can be raised on it including tropical fruits in the far southern valleys where frost is unknown.

Yours truly,
FRED L. RENTZ.

BADLY BURNED IN GAS EXPLOSION

Sister Of New Castle Men Seriously Burned At East Liverpool, O.

Mrs. Nancy A. Bird, sister of Frank and Harry Kennedy of 601 Johns street of this city, was severely burned by a gas explosion in her home at East Liverpool O., Sunday. She was removed to New Castle to the home of her brother on Johns street.

Mrs. Bird, noticing that gas was escaping by a strong odor of gas, began to seek the source. Shutting off all connections on her side of the double house in which they resided she entered the other side of the house which was vacant and did not discover the leak until she opened a door into a small room off the kitchen and struck a match. She was hurled by the force of the explosion across the kitchen and was severely burned about the face and head and inhaled a little flame. A pair of glasses was the only thing that saved her eyes.

A doctor was summoned and the wounds dressed and she was removed to the home of Mrs. Edith Mills in East Liverpool and on Sunday removed to the home of her brother here. She is reported to be doing fairly well but is suffering from the nervous shock as well as the severe burns.

The house was badly wrecked by the explosion but did not catch fire. It will be sometime before it can be repaired.

The union meeting of the adult organized Bible classes of Neshannock U. P. church was held at the church Friday evening. Hoyt Shaw, missionary superintendent, was in charge. As this was the meeting set for the children to return their quarters which they received last April, the meeting was quite interesting. Each child, when called, reported how they had invested their quarter and what returns they had received. Quite a few returned $5 each. On account of the weather conditions and illness, a number of children could not be present. $33.85 was turned in and a number more reports will be turned in soon. Music by Juanita Mounts and Margaret Bird Shaw was enjoyed very much and at the close of the business meeting a social hour was enjoyed. Refreshments were served by the committee: Mrs. Lois McConnell, Mrs. Margaret McConnell, Mrs. Edith Mounts, Mrs. Minnie Blair and Mrs. Jennie Gormley.

Ambitious clerk finds way to beat the game

"EASY", HE SAYS

"I WORK in an office. That means that I've got a raft of details on my mind. And I've got to be right up to scratch every moment. You know how hard-boiled the chief can be if I can't dig up the right data at just the right moment. Hard work—long hours—a good deal on my feet.

"And yet I manage to be full of pep. What's more, I've got a real interest in my job—looking ahead, you know, to a little niche at the top for yours truly. I've just got to keep fit.

"How do I do it? I can't take time for golf. But I do take Nujol. And Nujol takes care of me."

Nujol is just a natural substance containing no drugs or medicine. Nujol was perfected by the Nujol Laboratories of the Standard Oil Company (New Jersey). It keeps the body functioning as nature meant it to, even under abnormal sedentary conditions. It not only prevents the excess of body poisons (we all have them) from forming, but aids in their removal.

Follow this advice and take Nujol regularly. You'll be amazed to find how much more energetic and efficient you will feel—and be. Take it steadily for three months and watch your improvement. It can't do you any harm, certainly, and might do you a lot of good.

Be sure you get the genuine.

THE NEWS, BY MAIL, ONE YEAR $5.00

The Daybook OF A New Yorker

BY BURTON RASCOE

Exclusive Central Press Dispatch to New Castle News.

NEW YORK, Feb. 28—The management of one hotel has an ingenious method of getting rid of the contents of its "Lost and Found" box once a year. On a certain day in February the employes of the hotel gather together to receive largesse in the way of odd silk hose, jewelry, pajamas, boudoir dolls and other impediments left behind by careless or hasty guests. Just how the distribution is managed my scout was not able to tell me. I suggested that the use of the old-fashioned suburban fair "grab-bag" was the most feasible way of carrying off the stunt and it seems to me that the managers of the theaters where unsuccessful plays are showing are missing a good bet when they fail to inaugurate a similar policy. If the week's receipts are low why not advertise an open grab bag party for all who attend matinee performances with the prizes possible bits of jewelry dropped by haughty lady members of the late coming cocktail parties. If one is to judge by the material in the lost and found columns of the daily papers there are lost every 24 hours, in the city, a bushel basket crammed with diamond lavallieres, pearl necklaces, platinum and diamond wrist watches, pigeon blood ruby rings, sapphire pendants, emerald brooches and whatnot. So a theater grab bag should prove a most attractive come-on for reluctant customers.

Incident. A Fifth avenue bus stops at a shady corner and the driver leaps forth. Passengers watch him amazedly and in some trepidation as he sprints down the block. He picks up a discarded box from the pavement and returns. A singular proceeding—for an employe whose movements are apt to be so ordered as to class him as a human automation. One of the more forward passengers asks the conductor the reason for this departure from bus convention. The conductor says: "Oh he just wanted that box for fire wood. The starter at the end of the run gets pretty chilled these nights."

The papers say that a new hotel is to have a monster tank in its main restaurant from which patrons may fish for their dinner. Their catches will be immediately prepared for eating.

Building In City Shows Increase

New Castle Among 14 Cities Of State With Increase In Building For January

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Pa., Feb. 28.—Building operations in the state during January showed a net gain of 4.6 per cent over the same month last year, according to complete reports compiled and announced today by the bureau of statistics of the Department of Labor and Industry.

During the month there were 1,890 permits granted in the 38 cities and towns which report to the bureau, covering work estimated to cost $11,085,221. Permits in 14 cities show gains over last year and losses were recorded for 23 cities and boroughs.

In Harrisburg issuance of a permit for a $3,000,000 state office building brought the total for this city to $3,154,010 and made it rank as the 11th among the cities of the United States. Excluding the one state permit from the total for all the cities would have been a decrease of 24.7 per cent for the month, as compared to last January.

Philadelphia, with a total of $4,482,600, showed a gain of 37.7 per cent over the same month last year and made that city rank ninth for the entire country.

The building gains for cities, in addition to Harrisburg and Philadelphia, over last January, are: Altoona, $24,030; Bethlehem, $253,994; Coatsville, $23,000; Duquesne, $22,498; Hazelton, $25,748; McKeesport, $65,889; McKees Rocks, $80,000; Monessen, $5,405; New Castle, $10,545; Wilkes-Barre, $24,585; Wilkinsburg, $113,300, and Williamsport, $10,104.

Many large cities of the state are included in the 23 places showing losses in building compared with January, 1927. Permits in Pittsburgh dropped $2,074,178, or 61.6 per cent. Pottsville showed a decline of $522,450, or 77.6 per cent.

Invite Paddock To Compete In Meet

Celebrated Sprinter Invited To Compete In Special At Franklin Field

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Feb. 28.—Charles Paddock, one of the greatest sprinters in the history of track and field, has been invited to compete in the thirty-fourth annual University of Pennsylvania Relay Carnival, according to H. Jamison Swarts, manager of the meet.

A special sprint series will introduce Paddock to track and field enthusiasts in this city. Last year, Locke, Scholz and Russell engaged in special 100 and 220-yard races, the first named winning the 220 and Scholz the 100.

Paddock will make known his decision to compete on Franklin Field April 28, shortly after March 10, on which day he will compete for the Los Angeles Athletic Club against Stanford University. Should Paddock decide to compete he will be pitted against the best sprinters available, including Locke, Russell, Bowman and Scholz.

Government Scientists Not Convinced That Fuelless Motor Works

By ROBERT S. THORNBURGH
International News Service Staff Correspondent

(Copyright 1928 International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—Terrestial magnetism may be harnessed to create energy that will turn wheels and make telegraph instruments tick, a group of government scientists at the Bureau of Standards agreed today, but they turned thumbs down on the mysterious and much discussed "fuelless" motor invented by Lester J. Hendershot of Pittsburgh.

That such a motor or generator can be used to drive airplanes was regarded as extremely doubtful by Dr. Paul R. Heyl, inventor of the earth inductor compass that guided Lindbergh to France, and Dr. H. D. Hubbard, who has visualized such apparent impossibilities as a camera which focuses automatically as does the human eye, and interplanetary transportation.

"You can't get something for nothing," declared Dr. Heyl, whose inductor compass operates on a principle somewhat similar to that of the Hendershot generator.

"To operate an airplane requires at least 400 horsepower. A device that would develop that power from earth cumbersome for aircraft.

If Hendershot's generator operates a motor or lights a light, the whole story of the invention has not been told. From the newspaper dispatches I am at loss to understand what kind of a machine it is. I can conceive of no practical device that would develop sufficient power from earth magnetism to run an airplane."

The earth inductor compass is based on the principle that the voltage of a direct current dynamo is changed by shifting the angle between the magnetic field and the brushes, which collect the current from a revolving armature. The armature is driven by a wind wheel, whose motion is dependent upon the movement of the airplane.

While there are a few "impossibles" in Dr. Hubbard's vocabularly, he said that a "fuelless motor" that would drive an airplane "looks impossible."

"It's a fact that here in the bureau, the light of the North star, millions of light miles away in space, has been so directed as to turn a small mirror," Hubbard said.

"A device was used in the war that would detect the presence of a man within fifty feet by the heat given off by his face. But that doesn't mean that the North Star's radiation would charge a storage battery, or that water could be boiled by the heat of a man's face."

Hubbard explained some remarkable manifestations of the effect of earth currents, supposed to be the motive power of the new generator. In periods of sun spot maximum it has been found possible to operate telegraph instruments all over Eastern United States and in England without batteries, simply from the power generated by magnetic storms.

In theory the magnetic storms light lights since they are responsible for the mysterious phenomenon of the Aurora—the blazing electric system of the frozen North.

"But to say that the comparatively weak magnetic field of the earth, which turns the compass needle, will develop in a generator sufficient energy to drive an airplane motor, is too much, and proof of the airplane in flight must be furnished before the invention is taken seriously," Hubbard said.

Urges City Place Traffic Signals

Police Chief Would Protect Children In School Zones Of City

C. C. Horner, chief of police, today recommended to council the installation of several traffic lights, a blinker warning and a sign for the protection of pedestrians.

Horner would have two traffic lights, not used at present but ready for service, placed at Madison avenue and North Liberty street and also at North Liberty and Cherry streets.

The chief recommended purchase of a new light to be placed at North Jefferson and North streets and a second new light at East and East North streets.

He further recommended that a blinker be installed in the Highland avenue school zone and would cut down the speed of automobiles and trucks to 10 miles an hour in school zones.

Horner also recommended that a sign reading: "Steep hill, go into second" should be placed 100 feet above the top of the East street hill.

Council referred the recommendations to committee where Councilman Reeves will bring up the position of "Stop" signs, the councilman believing they should be set back at least 20 feet from corners .

HARDLY ABLE TO GET BREATH DUE TO STOMACH GAS

Awful Misery Followed Each Meal, Lima Lady Relieved By The New Konjola

This surprising new medical compound, Konjola, which the Konjola Man is explaining to large crowds of people daily at Love & Megown Drug Store, 204 East Washington street, New Castle, has brought amazing relief in cases of kidney and bowel disorders. Many are giving reports about the work of this medicine. Just recently, Mrs. Helen Denfenbaugh, 126 Euclid avenue, Lima, Ohio, made the following statement about Konjola:

MRS. HELEN DENFENBAUGH

"I am free of stomach trouble since I have taken Konjola," said Mrs. Denfenbaugh, "and this medicine also benefited me in so many ways, because I am feeling better than I have in years."

My trouble started with indigestion, and the past two years my stomach kept getting worse. I suffered after every meal. I would burn from the pit of my stomach to my throat, and was troubled with heart palpitation.

"I had been in these miseries for a long time, and couldn't find a thing to help me. Sometimes I took soda for relief, but usually after the next meal I was worse than before. I heard about Konjola, and this medicine proved to be entirely different from all the other remedies I had tried. I got wonderful relief from the gas and indigestion pains. I noticed I was feeling better every day, and now I eat anything I want because my food agrees with me. My strength is built up wonderful, and I can sleep better and my nerves are stronger. The heartburn, bloating and all other miseries have gone entirely. After the great good Konjola has done for me, I certainly can indorse such a medicine."

The Konjola Man is at Love & Megown Drug store, 204 East Washington street where he is daily meeting the public and introducing and explaining the merits of this remedy. Free samples given.

Harry W. Miles has filed a suit at the prothonotary's office against Fred Moser in which he wants $142.80 damages as a result of an automobile collision on Wilmington avenue. Seeing no car approaching he started to drive across when he was struck by Moser's machine which he claims was being driven at about 40 miles per hour. The front end of the Miles car was dahaged and the amount asked was paid out by plaintiff for a repair bill.

NEW STRIKE OF 300,000 MINERS IS THREATENED

Union Miners In Twelve States To Stage Walkout On April 1, Report

Senate Investigating Committee Back In Washington With Survey Completed

By KENNETH CLARK
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—A new strike of 350,000 union miners in 12 states is threatened on April 1, United Mine Workers officials reported today to the special Senate Coal committee.

After nearly a week's investigation in Pennsylvania fields, the committee, headed by Senator Gooding (R) of Idaho, returned to Washington today to prepare a report for the Interstate Commerce committee.

States To Be Affected

States which will be affected by the threatened walk-out include Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Oklahoma, Missouri, Kansas, Wyoming, Washington, Montana, Texas, Ohio and Northern West Virginia. In these sections some union operations have been working under temporary wage agreements. All efforts thus far to negotiate a settlement have failed, union officials declared.

At the present time about 138,000 men are on strike.

The committee collected about 200 pages of testimony on its trip. Instead of a written report, the subcommittee will relate orally to the full committee its experiences in the mine camps. A meeting was called for Thursday. The general investigation by the full committee probably will get under way next week.

In the committee's opinion some legislative remedy must be found to relieve the present strike conditions or unrest will spread to other industries, including the railroads, and affect thousands of persons. No program has been mapped out but a bill calling for federal supervision of the coal industry will be presented by one or two of the committee members. Senator Wheeler (D) of Montana already has introduced a bill to nationalize the mines.

Overproduction Is Ill

The greatest ill of the industry, the committee believes, is overproduction and an oversupply of miners.

The committee was strong in its denunciation of the alleged misuse of injunctions in labor disputes. Senator Gooding characterized as "outrageous" the injunction which forbids strikers to congregate in the little church yard at Rossiter, Pa., to sing hymns. The Senate judiciary committee is now holding hearings on the Shipstead bill to curb the injunctive power of the federal courts.

Activities of alleged communists among striking coal miners around Senator Gooding.

"We must get the I. W. W. by the throat and choke it to death," he declared. "If we don't the gutters of our streets will run knee deep with blood. The industrial leaders of the country should fight this menace."

Philip Murray, vice president of the mine workers, told the committee "the communists believe they can dominate the American labor movement if they can get control of the United Mine Workers, the largest single union in the country."

"The hope of our miners reposes in the American flag," he added. "The committee's investigation has given striking miners renewed hope in their government."

Murray, John L. Lewis, president, and other miners' officials came here for the investigation. They will present their side first. Pennsylvania operators will be killed next, and the committee then will turn its investigation to West Virginia, Kentucky and Ohio conditions.

Watch Your Kidneys!

You Can't Feel Well When Kidneys Act Sluggishly.

YOUR kidneys! Do you realize what an important part they play in your health and length of life?

Your kidneys are the blood filters. When they act sluggishly, waste poisons remain and make one tired and drowsy, with often nagging backache and annoying headaches and dizzy spells. That the kidneys are not acting right is often shown by too frequent, scanty or burning excretions.

Assist the kidneys with Doan's Pills. Doan's, a stimulant diuretic, increase the secretion of the kidneys and thus aid in the elimination of waste impurities. Doan's are endorsed the country over. Ask your neighbor!

Rev. F. B. Blodgett To Speak Wednesday In Trinity Church

Dean Of The Cathedral Church Of St. Paul At Erie, Speaker At Lenten Service

The first of the visiting preachers during the Lenton season on Wednesday evenings in Trinity church is one of the outstanding men of the Diocese of Erie, The Very Rev. Francis B. Blodgett, dean of the Cathedral church of St. Paul, Erie, Pa. The service is tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock.

Dean Blodgett had practical experience at Lexington, Mass., as Rector, as Canon of All Saints Cathedral, Albany, New York, and for seven years as head of the largest Episcopal church in the Diocese of Erie. Under his leadership a very large, modern Chapter House has been built in Erie adjoining the Cathedral for all sorts of organized Christian activities, the organ has been made over and enlarged. These together with other improvements involve an expenditure of about $500,000.00, which has been raised.

Dean Blodgett was for 15 years a professor in the Department of Old Testament in the General Theological Seminary, New York City, where he did excellent work and was a great favorite with the students.

Pass Ordinance For Law Inspector

All Accidents Will Be Thoroughly Investigated Under New Law

Council today passed an ordinance providing for the appointment of an inspector to serve in the law department of the city, but the ordinance, while creating a new office, does not require the employment of a new employe, as the inspector will be a policeman assigned from the department to work under the jurisdiction of Robert M. White, solicitor. At present Henry Dysart is investigating all claims which would have a tendency to involve the city in a lawsuit.

According to the bill, the council, with the approval of the mayor, shall designate a member of the police force to serve as an inspector, upon the recommendation of White.

The ordinance also says that "it shall be the duty of every city employe" hereafter to report to White or the law department every violation of city ordinance where a dangerous condition of streets or sidewalks or other property which the city is charged to maintain.

In addition every complaint of nuisance or other thing for which the city might be charged and every accident in which the city might become involved in damages shall come to the city employes' notice must be reported and a complete record of reports shall be kept by the inspector, who also will really be an investigator and who will serve all legal papers and prosecute under the direction of the city solicitor.

HAD GIVEN UP HOPE OF EVER GETTING WELL

Lady Was Weak, Nervous, Run Down; Ten Herbs Made Her Feel Fine

"I was so weak, nervous, and rundown that I was confined to bed most of the time," was the statement of Mrs. Harold Clark, R. F. D. 2, Waterford, N. Y., (near Troy), to the Ten Herbs Man, who is at Eckerd's of New

MRS. HAROLD CLARK

Castle, Inc., 30 East Washington Street, New Castle, where he is daily demonstrating the great natural medicine, Ten Herbs. "My stomach was badly upset, and I had vomiting spells and severe headaches," Mrs. Clark continued. "I had awful pains in the back, and sometimes could hardly rise from a chair. Fainting spells came on me, and at times I was very nervous. My liver was disordered, and my bowels irregular. I lost 29 pounds. My health was so bad I had given up hope of ever finding relief.

"A friend recommended Ten Herbs to my husband, and we decided that I should try your medicine. The first few doses gave me great relief from gas, which had almost suffocated me. From that time on I gained in health and strength, until now I am my former self again. I am back to my former weight, and really feel fine. I believe Ten Herbs was practically the means of saving my life, and I am pleased to recommend your medicine to the public."

People who suffer from bad biliousness, together with bursting headaches above the eyes; from foul breath and unclean tongue; from stomach pain and agony due to gas and bloating; from indigestion and lack of appetite, and who look wan and emaciated, and lack vigor and energy because of disordered stomach, cannot keep from telling others when they use Ten Herbs, and are restored to health, with sparkling eyes, and good color, strength and vigor, and free of all pain and misery. Ten Herbs has helped many local people even after other medicines failed, as is shown by their statements published in the daily papers.

The Ten Herbs Man is at Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc., 30 East Washington Street, New Castle, where he is daily meeting the public and explaining the merits of this medicine. He will be glad to tell you how to take it and get the best results. Free sample given.

Schoole Playe Jingles

By R. M. G.

Sing a song of six bits—
A kettle full of whey
A tightwads pants are trickery ones—
The pockets ope' one way—
And when the coin goes into them
It's into them to stay.
Though oft the cause is cause enough,
At least that's what they say.
But who wants to be a tightwad?
See the tightwad in our play.

Orchestra Leader Dotes On Hot Dogs

Paul Whiteman Claims Canine Sandwiches Keep His Men In Fine Trim

HARRISBURG, Feb. 28. — Paul Whiteman, jovial, rotund orchestra leader has one weakness, he admitted on a recent visit here. The lowly hot dog as served in "one-arm" lunch wagons, has an irresistable lure for him.

Not only does Whiteman himself partake whenever the opportunity arises, but members of his band also have acquired the habit. Denizens of a hot dog stand here were surprised to see Whiteman, followed by several members of his band, invade the place after a performance here and order several rounds of hot dogs.

Contrary to allegations by physicians and others that the hot dog plays havoc with the musicians' wind, Whiteman claims they keep his men in good condition.

To End Severe Cough Quickly, Try This

For real results, this old home-made remedy beats them all. Easily prepared.

You'll never know how quickly a bad cough can be conquered, until you try this famous home-made remedy. The immediate relief given is almost like magic. It is easily prepared, and there is nothing better for coughs.

Into a pint bottle, put 2½ ounces of Pinex; then add plain granulated sugar syrup to make a full pint. Or you can use clarified honey, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, the full pint saves about two-thirds of the money usually spent for cough preparations, and gives you a more positive, effective remedy. It keeps perfectly, and tastes pleasant—children like it.

You can feel this take hold instantly, soothing and healing the membranes in all the air passages. It promptly loosens a dry, tight cough, and soon you will notice the phlegm thin out and disappear. A day's use will usually break up an ordinary throat or chest cold, and it is also splendid for bronchitis, hoarseness, and bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a most valuable concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract and palatable guaiacol, the most reliable remedy for throat and chest ailments.

To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with directions. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

To Begin Special Services In Central Christian Church

Evangelist W. Graham Walker Of Lexington, Ky., To Be The Preacher

W. Graham Walker of Lexington, Ky., arrived in the city early this morning to begin an intensive evangelistic campaign in the Central Christian church on the corner of Long and Pennsylvania avenues this evening at 7:30. Since Mr. Walker entered the evangelistic work nearly seven years ago he has traveled very extensively and has come in contact with churches that have many hard and difficult problems which have been very successfully solved. Of his wonderful and highly successful work as an evangelist, Manly Morton said: "As a preacher of the gospel, he is second to none in clearness, force and loyalty to the Holy Book. He has an earnestness, enthusiasm and spiritual attractiveness about his sermons which means much in the winning of souls to Christ. As a worker, he is most determined and untiring that it has ever been my pleasure to know." The congregation considers themselves very fortunate in securing this efficient and capable worker to lead them in this great campaign of kingdom-building and have been working hard the last few days to have things ready for the opening of this series of meetings.

CONSECRATION IS DISCUSSED BY REV. S. H. EPLER

The first meeting of the second week of services being conducted at the Grace M. E. church was conducted last night by Rev. Sherman H. Epler of Eau Claire, Pa. There was a very good attendance at this service and a wonderful manifestation of the power of God was felt. Rev. Epler said in part: "There is need of a separation from the things of the world; it is also necessary that one consecrate all the talents and energy for the upbuilding of Christian principles. It is not a shallow experience but rather one that causes men to launch out into the deep." Rev. J. L. Petrie sang a solo at the service.

It is expected that a good number will be present to hear Rev. Epler this evening. The service will commence at 7:30. There will be special music and singing at the service. The services will continue each night this week.

Aims to Live 100

Pittsburgher Uses a Rare Herb Remedy to Keep Youthful Fires Burning

"I am nearing 60 years, but I feel as young as I did at 30. I take a cupful of Bulgarian Herb (Blood) Tea once or twice a week. It keeps me healthy and strong and makes me feel young again," said H. H. Von Schlick, prominent Pittsburgh, Pa., manufacturer.

Persons who are constipated or have rheumatism, liver, kidney or stomach trouble should use this pure vegetable remedy. It really is wonderful how soon it begins to make one feel years younger, and it costs so little at any drug store.

Why, just to break up a bad cold quickly, Bulgarian Herb (Blood) Tea is worth ten times its price. The rich herb juices, taken hot at bedtime, heat up the chilled blood, stimulate the circulation and aid nature to cast the poison germs out of your system.

House At Leesburg Burns To Ground

Douglass Home Loss Is $3,000 With Some Insurance On Household Goods

A six room frame house at Leesburg owned by George Douglass was completely destroyed by fire on Saturday, February 25, the family being able to save only a few of the household goods and some clothing.

The origin of the fire is unknown. Mrs. Douglass and her daughter Leora had been upstairs doing the morning work and were busy downstairs when Mrs. Douglass opening the stair door noticed smoke. Calling Mr. Douglass she went upstairs to see where the smoke was coming from. Making a hole in the ceiling, Mr. Douglass found the whole place ablaze.

Help arrived from Leesburg and near neighbors but the fire had too big a start to save anything except some of the household goods and canned fruit. All the clothing of the family except what they wore and a suit of Mr. Douglass' was destroyed.

The loss is estimated at $3.000 with some insurance on household goods. The garage which stood near was saved. The building was a six-room frame building and was built new 15 years ago, Mr. and Mrs. Douglass making it their home ever since.

There was no fire protection on the property except a small pump and it was frozen up by the cold weather so that they could not use it to fight the fire.

Mr. and Mrs. Douglass will live with their children until other arrangements can be made this summer. Mr. Douglass has been out of work since last October and Mrs. Douglass owing to poor health is in a very nervous condition.

Dirigible's Trip

Route laid out for the United States dirigible Los Angeles, shown above, on a flight of approximately 2,200 miles to Panama: From hangar at Lakehurst, N. J., over New York City, thence south, over the Bahama islands and Cuban waters, where the naval tender Patoka, with mooring mast, was anchored (1,500 miles from Lakeburst), to France Field, Panama. This is the longest flight attempt of the Los Angeles since she was flown from Germany, where she was built.

A SUGGESTION

ELLWOOD CITY, Feb. 28.—At a recent meeting of the officials of the local Republican club, David Jones, recent member of the State Legislature, suggested that a law be passed in reference to voting, wherein each voting citizen would be taxed $10 per year, and at each primary and general election, the election board chairmen would issue to each voter a voucher for the amount of $5. This idea would tend to stimulate voting and bring to the polls larger numbers of tax-paying citizens in the operation of affairs political, city, county, state and nation-wide.

When one realizes that at the last national election less than fourteen million people voted for a presidential candidate, or approximately one ninth of the population, it is time that some corrective measure be adopted.

Local Club Is Working On Safety Plans For Ellwood

ELLWOOD CITY, Feb. 28.—Officials of the Ellwood City Motor Club have received word from Mr. Etheridge, general manager of the Pittsburgh Harmony and Butler line, to the effect that the company will cooperate with the Motor Club in an attempt to make the Hazel Dell crossing on the Ellwood-New Castle highway as safe an intersection as possible.

Motor Club officials urged the trolley company authorities to help in this safety measure by having interrurban cars come to a full stop before crossing the highway. This would only take a few seconds and in all probability would be a preventive measure that might avert the loss of a number of lives.

Davis Is President Of Scout Leaders

Elected At Monthly Meeting Of Association Held In Ellwood City

The Scout leaders of Lawrence county held their monthly meeting Monday evening, at the First Presbyterian church at Ellwood City. C. R. Knallay, assistant Scout Executive at Ellwood City and the Scoutleaders of Ellwood supplied the necessities of a fine oyster supper. A large number of the members of the club were in attendance.

Ralph Davis, president of the club, presided over the business meeting. The annual election of officers was held with the following results: Ralph F. Davis, president; C. H. Smith, vice president; Jack Dye, treasurer; Sidney L. Smith, secretary.

Harold R. McCulloch, County Farm Agent and a member of the training committee of the Lawrence County Council, gave a splendid report on the progress being made through the Men's Bible Classes of the city in raising the Council's quota of 150 men for the Leaders' Training school which will be started the last of March.

John E. Dye, Scout Commissioner, made plans for the planting of thousands of trees by the Boy Scouts in Lawrence county. A demonstration of scouting on a large scale will be held in the city if possible, when the eliminations of the Lawrence county troops are run off. This will be quite an exhibit and will interest all citizens of the city.

The Scout Circus will be held March 23rd, at the Carnegie Auditorium. A rehearsal for this will be held at the same place on March 16. This is one of the greatest demonstrations of Scouting to be held by the Lawrence County Council this year. All are invited to attend. There will be no charges.

A large quantity of Forest Fire Warning Posters will be placed and posted this year by the Boy Scouts of Lawrence County while they are hiking and camping through the woods. This is a splendid work done yearly by the Scouts through the cooperation of the State Department of Forestry and Waters.

J. Lee Calahan, Scout Executive, discussed at length the outline of the program for the growth of the Scoutmasters. He also told of a proposition made by George Winter of the Winter company for the Scout troops of New Castle to put on displays in the Boys' Department of the Winter company store. Mr. Calahan's report of the Gimogash organization showed the interest the older boys are taking in Scouting.

Plans were made for a large exhibit of Merit Badge subjects to be sponsored by the business men of the city to be held some time in the future.

Most of the troops are making fine records in appearing before the monthly Review Boards. As advancement in Scouting is an important part of the Scout program, these Review Boards are of vast importance and all troops should be represented. Earle K. Herbert, Scoutmaster of Wampum Troop 1, explained his methods of getting the local ministers back of the Sunday Religious Hikes and of the program used on these monthly events. These programs are carried out on a strictly religious basis using the Bible as a text.

John E. Dye, commissioner, also gave an explanation of the Scribes' contest which will probably be started soon. This contest will help the boys as scribes, keep the troop records better and make re-registeration easier at the end of the year.

FRESHMEN SEEK REFUGE IN JAIL

Initiation week at Indiana university, Bloomington, Ind., is hard on the freshmen. So much so that this group of underclassmen walked the entire distance from Bloomington to Indianapolis and sought refuge in a jail cell after evading tasks assigned them by upperclassmen.

FLOODS BRING DESTITUTION TO WABASH FARMERS

Thirteen floods in 18 months have brought starvation and destitution to the little town of Crowleyville, on the Wabash river, Gibson county, Indiana. For three years the farm community has been hoping for a crop, but the floods have beaten them out of it every time. These scenes are from the destitute community. Top photo shows the main street in Crowleyville. Center, left, is the main building in the town, a grocery store where the shelves are bare now. To the right is a view of an abandoned farm which has not produced a crop in three years because of the floods. Below is a flooded road in Wabash township, showing why it is almost impossible to get relief to the community.

GIRLS TO TRY EUROPE'S AIRWAYS

Miss Mildred Johnson, of Philadelphia, Pa., and Miss Esther Wanner, inset, of Portland, Ore., are setting out on a tour of Europe's airways early in March, making pictures and writing of their experiences. Miss Johnson is an aviation writer and lecturer, and is said to be the only person to have covered completely the airmail routes in the United States.

The famous Hindu fakir, who daily defies death by being buried alive under two tons of sand, demonstrates a state of body rigidity which permits the body to stand hammer blows without pain, allows heavy rocks to be broken on his chest, stands being pierced with needles and also withstands strong burns. He also walks a ladder of razor-edged swords. Birds, animals and fish will also be placed in a cataleptic state.

Scranton Chorus To Compete For High Honors In Wales

Anthracite Male Chorus To Represent Welsh-Americans At National Eisteddfod

Anthracite Male Chorus of Scranton is preparing for and hoping to win the male chorus trophy at the greatest musical contest in the world—the National Eisteddfod of Wales to be held at Treorchy in August of this year.

The Scranto chorus will represent America at this celebrated musical event which for centuries has challenged the best in the sphere of music, poetry and literature.

In 1926 the Cleveland Orpheus society carried off the trophy in the male chorus competition and last year the triumph went to the Irish tausical organization. These two triumphs have roused the ire of British critics and whetted the competition of British and Welsh organizations to endeavor to bring the trophy back home.

The chorus from Scranton is planning several concerts in Wales preceding the event, the proceeds to go for relief work among the unemployed miners of the district. Also inquiries have come for stage work in the prominent theaters of Swansea and Cardiff.

American Forest Week Designated April 22 To 28

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—President Coolidge has issued a proclamation designating the week of April 22-28 for a nation-wide observance of "American Forest Week."

The President set apart this week, he said, "for public discussion of our forests and of what must be done to safeguard and restore them." He emphasized particularly the need for suppressing the forest fire evil and pointed out the benefits to agriculture, industry, commerce and national life that will result from making the forest lands of the United States "fully productive of continuous timber crops."

Street Railways Drop In State

Many Lines Being Abandoned As Result Of Use Of Buses And Autos

HARRISBURG, Feb. 28. — Three years ago there were 126 street and interrurban railways operating in Pennsylvania. At the close of 1927, there were eighty-five, records at the Public Service Commission show.

During the past year 148½ miles of electric lines discontinued operations because the operating expenses exceeded their revenues. About fifty per cent of the lines were discontinued by court orders, while the others ceased operation after receiving approval from the commission.

Records at the commission disclosed that the loss of revenue was due primarily to inroads made upon the electric carriers by motor buses and motor cars. In virtually all cases, the electric lines were superceded by bus service, some of the companies replacing their cars with motorbuses.

The mileage abandoned last year was owned by fourteen companies, with twenty-four miles of trackage, led the list. The shortest line to discontinue operations was the Patterson Heights Street Railway, near Pittsburgh, which had one-half mile of track.

Trace Chicken Thief For Thousand Miles

Locate Thieves Through Death Of Brother On Truckload Of Chickens

GREENCASTLE, Pa., Fez. 28. — Chief of Police Stephen Staley adopted the Northwestern Mounted Police motto, "Get Your Man," in his search for chicken thieves here and went more than a thousand miles to bring two suspects to justice.

Learning that Edward Wright had been killed while driving a truckload of chickens near Ellicot City, Md., recently, Chief Staley investigated with revealing his plans, he learned of the whereabouts of Wright's two brothers, Paul, 25, and Lester, 26, in Fitgerald City, Ga. He went after them, and they now face charges of stealing 100 chickens from Daniel Shank, of Greencastle.

Loses $4,000 For Employer On Bets

Pawnbroker's Clerk Destroys Tickets And Bets Money On Horses

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Feb. 28. — Joseph Kohn, 20, lost nearly $4,000 of his employer's money betting on horses, he told Magistrate Holland in central station. Kohn was held in $2,000 bail.

The youth, a clerk for Charles Brooks, pawnbroker, told the court one of his schemes was to pocket the money on redeemed goods and destroy the tickets. He said the largest bet he placed was $500 and the smallest $1.00.

THE TRAGEDY OF MANY LIVES IS CONSTIPATION

Guard against it in time

This evil scourge ruins thousands of promising men and women. It saps vigor. It kills initiative. It wrecks health and happiness. Sleepless nights, dragging feet, headaches, pain-dulled eyes, follow in its wake. Frequently it leads to lasting and serious disease.

Yet there is safe, prompt relief. Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is guaranteed to relieve constipation. To surely prevent it. ALL-BRAN is 100% bran—100% effective. Doctors recommend it. Two tablespoonfuls daily — chronic cases, with every meal.

Don't you agree it is better to cure constipation with this healthful cereal than to try dangerous pills and drugs? Or uncertain part-bran products? Delicious with milk or cream—fruits or honey added. Use it in cooking too. Sprinkle it into soups. Sold by all grocers. Served everywhere. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

"Overcoming Sinful Habits"

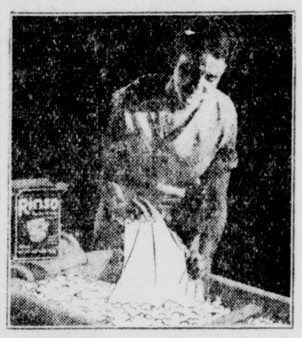

SCRIPTURE: Memory Verse: "Thanks be to God who giveth us the victory" (I Corinthians 15.57). Read: Romans 7:15-25.

MEDITATION: St. Paul had been suffering from a divided spirit. The good and the evil were in a perpetual warfare so painful that he spoke of it as "this death." The psychiatrists have found out that a prolific cause of mental disturbances is lack of self conquest and of inward harmony. It may consist of a secret sin, a wayward imagination, desires at war with ideals, or a wrong attitude toward life and other people. The way out is a central, dominating, unselfish purpose that brings life into harmony. We shall find the way out of conflict where Paul found it: "I thank God through Jesus Christ our Lord." If Christ is supreme in life, there will be inner order, unity and health of spirit.

PRAYER: Almighty Father who dost heal both the bodies and souls of men, deliver Thy servants, we pray Thee, from all infirmities by the grace of Thy Christ. Let His spirit that giveth life and peace, abide in us and unify our scattered souls. In the name of Jesus. Amen.

This hard-water soap soaks clothes whiter!

I USED to be dead tired every washday because I had such a heavy wash and it was such a hard job for me.

But no more drudgery for me! Now I use Rinso, the granulated hard-water soap. It loosens the dirt and stains like magic! Clothes come out so white and snowy that I scarcely have to rub a thing. I don't even bother boiling any more.

Rinso alone—without a softener—makes our water wonderfully soft and sudsy. And the suds stand right up until I'm ready to rinse.

One of my neighbors uses Rinso in her washer. She says it's great, too—no other soap comes up to it.

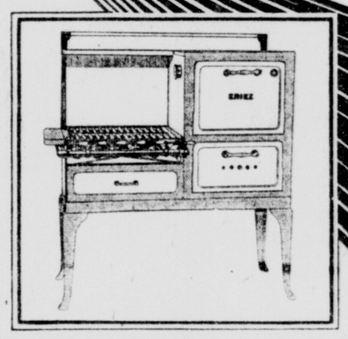

Just ask your grocer for

Maple Sugar Season Has Earlier Booking

Open Winter Has Advanced Tapping Time In Groves Of Pennsylvania

HARRISBURG, Pa., Feb. 28—Sugar and syrup from Pennsylvania maple trees will probably be available for tables of Pennsylvania housewives several weeks earlier this year than is customary, for reports from district foresters to the Department of Forests and Waters indicate the sap will rise in the trees early this year. An open winter with several warm periods of unusual length will aid in advancing the maple sugar season, this year.

Last year Pennsylvania produced approximately 250,000 pounds of maple sugar and $275,000 gallons of maple syrup. The two had a value of more than $650,000. The maple sugar and syrup industry has three stages: tapping the tree by boring a half inch hole two iches deep about two feet above the ground for insertion of spiles or spouts; collecting the sap daily; and boiling it into syrup and sugar. The sap flows at the rate of about seventy drops a minute.

LET us all rejoice!

People are living longer than they did.

Statistics, usually pretty cold and uninteresting, have given us a great story this time.

They tell us that the average of life has been extended 30 years during the past 100 years. Most of this increase has come during the past 50 years.

At the rate we are going the Biblical allotment of three score and ten years, as the maximum of a well-rounded life, will probably be extended to five score and ten, perhaps more, according to scientists.

This is discouraging to undertakers, but to be honest with you, we cannot sympathize with them, and we do not believe you can, no matter how much you may like some of them personally.

Many undertakers will have to find a more profitable vocation. In New York City for instance, there are 1,800 undertakers to take care of 72,000 people who die on the average annually.

This is an average of only 40 cases a year per undertaker. The result is that most of them find it hard to make a living.

People will not die, even in highly congested New York City, where 6,000,000 people or more are getting along great, despite everything.

You realize, of course, why people are living longer, don't you? Is it not because they are taking good care of their stomachs?

Result: Better health and a brighter outlook on life. People are bound to live longer if they get good things to eat regularly. Of course, there is not a thing that is fit to eat unless one knows that it is made of pure food.

Fortunately, people are protected these days by Honest Manufacturers of Pure Food Products. The labels they use on their products have proved their integrity. People are not now afraid to eat any food that carries an honest label.

It is said that one touch of ptomaine poisoning, even if it does not kill, shortens life five years. It is very seldom now that anybody gets a touch of ptomaine poisoning.

Quality Bakers of America all bear the above insignia which does not change to meet any new fad that comes out. It is a mark that spells Uniform Quality year in and year out, day in and day out. Hence, it has earned Public Confidence and Good Will.

The public always appreciates careful, sustained effort on the part of anybody in any line to give them articles of food that can be consumed safely and at the same time can be counted on to preserve strength and health.

The greatest of all stand-bys in every home is Bread. Called "The Staff of Life", it proves that it is every day. There is no other article of food used more universally or that is more necessary. Therefore, every family is entitled to Good Bread of a Quality that is sustained scientifically and conscientiously.

A very large part of this public knows Our Bread and eats it regularly. More may eat it if they wish. Any Good grocer will supply you.

Councilmen Plan Drastic Action To Have Streets Fixed

Bond May Be Required To Guarantee Street Excavations Be Properly Repaired

Probability exists that city council soon will map out a plan whereby street excavations will be properly repaired according to a discussion in city council which met in city hall today.

Under a new ordinance a law inspector is created and it will be the duty of all employes to report dangerous conditions and the inspector will see that the conditions are alleviated.

Still, under Councilman Reeves proposition he would make persons opening streets put up a deposit and if they fail to fill them right the city employes would do the work and take the deposit.

The problem has been one of years standing. There has been considerable discussion, but according to councilmen themselves the situation has not improved.

According to the vein of councilmanic discussion patience has ceased to be a virtue and it is probable that the stern hand of authority now will be invoked in some way to eliminate "shell-holes."

COUNCIL BUYS TWO TON TRUCK

Foster Bros. Receives Award For Truck At Price Of $2,340

Council in formal session at city hall today purchased from Foster Bros., a Graham two ton truck at a price of $2,340.

City Mechanic Fred McMillen presented a recommendation to council calling for the Graham truck.

Mayor Gillespie remarked "there is a question in my mind whether it is proper for a city employe to make a recommendation."

"I did not know the recommendation had been submitted," replied Councilman Reeves as the truck will go to the street department.

He made a motion to file the recommendation, and purchase the truck which met with councilmanic approval.

The truck is a two-ton chassis, closed cab, three-yard dump body and has a hydraulic hoist.

Bell Company Takes Over More Rooms For Plant

Owing to the need of more space at the Bell Telephone company plant for expansion purposes, the office force of the plant department of the New Castle office of that company, has secured a number of rooms on the top floor of the Temple Building on North street and the plant department office employes are now located in that building. The company is gradually outgrowing its present location on South Mercer street.

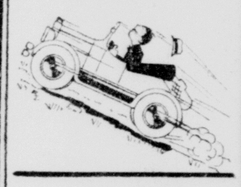

Police To Return To Blue Uniforms

Members of the city police force are now busily engaged in preparing to purchase new uniforms. The city authorities have agreed to the petition of the men to allow them to return to the old regulation blue type of uniforms. All members of the force with the exception of the traffic officers will use the blue uniforms in the future. The traffic officers will continue to wear the whipcord state police type of uniforms.

Work Being Pushed On Wampum Bridge

County Commissioner T. J. McCullough reports that work is going along nicely on the new bridge and viaduct at Wampum. Piling is now being driven for the abutment foundation and work on the pier foundation in the river will be started soon. It is planned to get this pier in before the spring rains raise the river, if possible.

Fireman Dies From Injuries In Train Wreck

(International News Service)

CHESTER, Pa., Feb. 28.—C. L. Bohl of Washington, fireman of the Seaboard Air Line Express, which was wrecked near Marcus Hook, died in the hospital here today as an investigation got under way. E. F. Kilroy, the engineer, died shortly after the crash.

A full investigation of the wreck will be started today under the direction of James Buckelew, superintendent of the Maryland division of the Pennsylvania railroad, on whose tracks the wreck occurred.

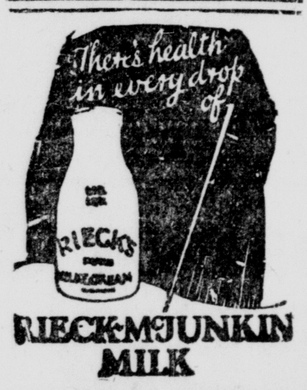

After a preliminary inspection of the scene Buckelew expressed the opinion the dead engineer had probably taken the switch at too high a speed, causing the engine to overturn, three Pullmans and a dining car to leave the tracks.

PICKPOCKETS ARE TAKEN IN CUSTODY

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 28.—Accused of attempting to "lift" the purse of a priest, two alleged pickpockets, Samuel Teko, Philadelphia, and Sammy Weiss, Pittsburgh, were held by police here today for a hearing. Detectives said Teko has a police record.

Buffalo Bill, Scout Of Scouts—Part II
Isaac Cody Moves To Kansas

ISAAC CODY, THE FATHER OF THE FAMOUS BUFFALO BILL, LIKED THE LIFE OF THE FRONTIER, AND IN 1852, WHEN IOWA BECAME CROWDED WITH SETTLERS, HE MOVED WESTWARD INTO KANSAS, TAKING YOUNG BILLY WITH HIM AND LEAVING THE REST OF HIS FAMILY AT HIS BROTHER ELIJAH'S FARM IN MISSOURI.

IN KANSAS, THE ELDER CODY ERECTED A TRADING POST AT SALT CREEK VALLEY IN THE NORTHERN PART OF LEAVENWORTH COUNTY, NOT FAR FROM THE KICKAPOO INDIAN RESERVATION.

OVER THE TRAIL THAT LED FROM FORT LEAVENWORTH TO THE PACIFIC COAST TRAVELED THOUSANDS OF FORTUNE HUNTERS ON THE WAY TO CALIFORNIA, AND MORMON EMIGRANTS MOVING TO UTAH AND THE HEAVY TRAFFIC MADE THE BUSINESS OF SELLING SUPPLIES QUITE PROFITABLE.

AT THE TRADING POST LITTLE BILLY CODY FIRST SAW THE PICTURESQUE TRAPPERS AND SCOUTS OF THE PLAINS, AND THE BOY WAS FIRED WITH THE AMBITION TO BE ONE OF THEM WHEN HE GREW UP.

By ED FRITZ

METHINKS THIS Johnny Pollock is a sick boy today, if not mentally, at least physically aggrieved and were one versed pugilistically called in to diagnose his case, the said diagnostician would declare: "A-hem, my young lad, you have had too much Rio."

And in making such diagnosis the one versed pugilistically would be correct because Frankie Rio, the Cleveland Flash, did everything after the first four rounds but knock out, Pollock last night and in fact he came within an ace of doing that as he knocked Pollock down for a count of nine in the sixth.

After Pollock was sent to the floor he took every second allowed him by the Marquis of Queensbury, and he certainly needed it. After he arose Rio went after him with the fury of a cross airedale and his punches forced Johnny to stagger and reel like a man on a New Year's spree.

Holds His Legs.

But the Youngstown featherweight refused to drop even though punches fell on his jaw and midriff like rain drops on a roof. Even though his legs bent and at times it appeared as though he couldn't take another punch Johnny managed to fall into sufficient clinches to enable him to bear the last bell.

Rio's boxing gave him a margin in the first three rounds and he forced the fighting. In the third Pollock braced and earned an even break, but in the fourth Rio's judgment of distance brightened and he shot effective blows to the head while Johnny tried to cut down the Cleveland boy with short jolts in the clinches.

Trouble Commences.

The fifth was the beginning of Pollock's troublesome journey as Frankie clipped him with a right to the jaw that didn't do Johnny any particular good, and while Pollock fought back with the desperation of one who knows he is being beaten, Frankie kept increasing speed, hand and foot and played considerable havoc with his left.

Shortly before the bell sounded Rio caught Pollock with a right to the jaw that hurt and when Pollock rushed in to nail Frankie with his right, Rio beat him to the punch and it landed on the "button". Johnny's knees bent, he clinched and the referee had to break the battlers. Rio shot three more lefts to the chin and a right to the head and though groggy, Pollock still kept his feet.

Pollock on Floor.

During the intermission his seconds worked fast and efficiently and when Johnny came forth for the last round he appeared to have recovered, but Rio jabbed three times, got Pollock off balance then sent a right to the chin that sent him down. He grovelled on the resin-covered floor but climbed to his feet at nine.

Rio burst forth with the fury of a tornado. Blows fell fast. He tried to get set but every time he did Pollock either lunged forward or reeled backward, knees sagging away as he stepped. Blows to the head kept the Youngstown boy staggering to and fro and though Johnny was beaten by a big margin, he heard the bell.

Al Taylor Wins.

It was a fight which the fans liked, and even though Rio won by the proverbial city block, the old adage, "Beaten but not disgraced", can be yanked from the morgue in behalf of Johnny, who, no difference how thick the punches flew, always came back for more, but Rio is too good for Pollock.

The semi-final between Al Taylor, a classy bantamweight of Elyria, who like Rio, is managed by Jimmie Dunn, captured a technical knockout over Joe Knell, alias Babe Rivers, Cleveland, in the second round. Taylor dropped Rivers twice and the referee stopped the fight.

Slate Goes Good.

Johnny Nick Vivio, the Pittsburgh printer, defeated Tony Casper of Cleveland in six rounds. The welterweights, while not clever, fought hard and their punches raised welts on their heads and faces. Vivio forced the fighting and deserved the decision.

Henry Slate of New Castle, a welterweight, made his initial debut and it ended satisfactorily to his friends as he was able in his first fight to step for six rounds with Jack Drake of Sharon. The judges split on the decision and the referee's verdict gave it to Drake. A draw would have been a better award.

Following the show last night Pollock with a spirit of ne'er-die remarked to his associates: "Give me two weeks' time and I can beat Rio." Johnny doesn't need feel badly and as for Rio, a chap who studies fighting like he did his text books at Sharon, his only comment was vini vidi vici which is true because he came saw and conquered.

Four Famous Runners Face Gun Tomorrow

Ray Dodge To Race Peltzer; Lloyd Hahn To Race Ray Conger

By DAVIS J. WALSH
Sports Editor Internat'al News Service

NEW YORK, Feb. 28.—The army that travels on its stomach and the soldier who sleeps on his watch may have a new gymnast in the act by tomorrow night in the runner who wins on his elbow. The elbow, you know, used to be something at which one kept old family retainers and beautiful women, although I don't mind saying that I almost never use my elbow on the latter.

That, however, has little to do with the fact that Lloyd Hahn will race the Herr Doctor Peltzer and Ray Conger tomorrow night, except that both of the latter somehow were born with a complete set of elbows. This not only lends them an air of distinction, but gives the defeated runner a chance to explain in full. The current indoor season has been rife, as we say at the fruit stand, with stories of this kind and, in a spirit of helpfullness I suggest that when they run this mile of the century tomorrow night they have Elbows McFadden, the old lightweight, as one of the judges at the finish.

In this way it is hoped to eliminate the "long count" that followed in the wake of these contests:

Ray Dodge versus the Herr Doctor's elbow.

Lloyd Hahn versus Ray Conger's.

Dukes At Westminster For Contest Tonight

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Feb. 28.—Chick Davies' Duquesne Dukes invade New Wilmington tonight with but one thought in mind—to stop the winning streak of Coach John Lawther's Westminster Titans and to avenge the slaughter handed the Bluff outfit at Pittsburgh one month ago when Westminster swamped the erstwhile champion by a 43-18 score.

Nor are the Westminster fans certain that the Dukes will be altogether disappointed when the final whistle blows. The last two contests have used up the Westminster team greatly and they are in very poor physical condition for anything like a championship go tonight.

A victory over the Pittsburgh team will give to the Blue and White the tri-state conference championship. Contrary to newspaper reports, the championship is not sewed up, for the Titans must win one more in order to be "in."

Lawther will start the same five men against the Dukes who played the entire game at Pittsburgh, but it is almost certain that they will not be able to stand the entire game again tonight. The men are bruised and tired after the St. Francis and Waynesburg tilts which were anything but gentle, so the substitutes may have to be used.

Following tonight's game, the Titans have three games left on the schedule. Thiel will be met next Friday night at Greenville; Geneva will be met at Beaver Falls next Wednesday night; and Grove City will close the season here March 10.

Announcement of Stevens' appointment to the post made vacant by the resignation of T. A. D. Jones was made by the Board of Control of the Yale University Athletic Association. While his selection had been forecast, the appointment for three years instead of one caused some surprise today.

Sport Ritticisms

By BILL RITT

One of the most-needed reforms in baseball is younger peanuts. The current bags of goobers should be retired on a pension.

Imagine the heartache of a peanut after being offered for sale in several world series to be munched at last during a spring exhibition game.

THE PEANUT IS A SOUTHERN PRODUCT WHICH CREATES NORTHERN STOMACH ACHES. IT IS A NATIVE OF BRAZIL THAT HAS BEEN DRAFTED INTO ORGANIZED BASEBALL.

The peanut has other uses besides making a dull ball game endurable. It is the one delicacy for which a circus elephant will desert its public.

SOME PEANUTS NEVER REACH THE BALL PARK OR THE CIRCUS GROUNDS. THEY ARE MADE UP INTO PIECES OF CANDY CALLED PEANUT BRITTLE, A STONE-LIKE SUBSTANCE WHICH HAS BROUGHT JOY TO MANY DENTISTS.

Years ago it was attempted to make a concoction called peanut soup but this idea failed as a food and is now as scarce as pickle a la mode and onion-banana salad.

Scientists have made milk from peanuts, but so far it hasn't done so well. While it might made a cup of coffee turn blonde, it would never lure a calf from its mother.

Zelienople High Here Tonight To Battle Traders

New Castle Trade School Quintet To Oppose Section III Team

FAST PRELIMINARY GAME ARRANGED

The New Castle Trade school team will seek to avenge the only setback suffered by the team this year when tonight at the Ben Franklin High gym floor they will play the Zelienople High team. The Acmes and Celtics of the Boy's league of the Y. M. C. A. will play the preliminary game. The first game will start at 7:15 o'clock.

The Zelienople High team, members of Section III of the W. P. I. A. L. proved to be the only team this year able to down the Trade quintet. The first game of the year at Zelienople ended in a victory for Zelienople at 50-27. Since the first game of the season the Traders have won 12 straight games and they hope to keep their record clean tonight with their 13th victory.

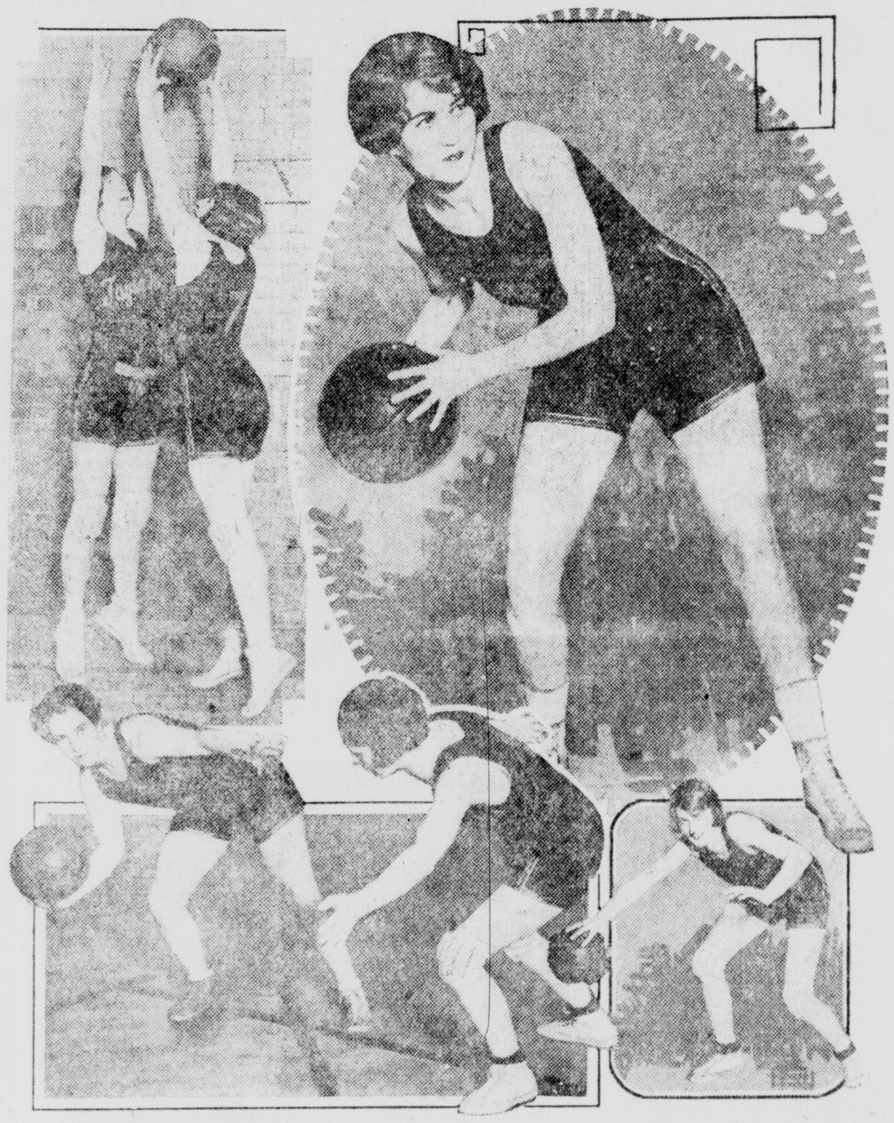

The Trade school lineup will be as follows: Kenst and Johns at the forwards; Stewart at center; and Shock and Watson at the guards. Zelienople will use Geis and Theis at the forwards; Colmery at center and Wilson and Graham at the guards.

New Castle High defeated Zelienople twice this year by scores of 32 to 16 and 36 to 12.

A record crowd is looked for at the Franklin auditorium tonight as this will be the only basketball attraction in the city.

Perhaps Dempsey just imagines his eyesight is bad because there is no big money in sight.—The Florence (Ala.) Herald.

New Castle Plans For Fast Attack In Play-Off Game

Means Of Penetrating Butler "Blockade" Puzzles Local Bastketeers

Some means of penetrating that famous Butler "blockade" is the jist of the practice sessions of the New Castle High school basketball team in their preparation for the game at the Pitt Stadium on Friday night.

In their two games with the Butler High team in Section III this year the locals have tallied but seven field goals and that is rather low for two basketball games. Butler has not had any better experience at the expense of the New Castle defense scoring but five field goals in two combats. It would look as if the real battle at Pittsburgh on Friday night would be at the foul line.

New Castle in reality has a slight edge on the Butler team outscoring them 18 to 10 at New Castle and dropping by a tally of 14 to 11 at Butler. Inability to shoot fouls at Butler lost the locals the sectional title without a play-off. Seven out of 15 fouls is a poor average.

Intense practice sessions are on tap for the New Castle high team all this week. Just what kind of a lineup Coach Bridenbaugh will use at Pittsburgh is not known and it is likely that the starting lineup will not be determined before game time on Friday night.

Pioneers Win In College League

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Feb. 28.—In an upset in the intra-mural league of Westminster the Pioneers conquered the Delt five by the score of 14-4 Monday afternoon in the college gymnasium. The game was rough and although the Delts got considerable close in shots they failed to register more than one field goal.

At half time the score stood 5-0 in favor of the winners. Shaffer and Clark, Westminster tennis stars, featured for the winners. For the Delts Lauder played a good defensive game. Numerous shifts of the lineup failed to find a consistent combination for the Delts.

WINTER'S

A Game Guy — By Feg Murray

Copyright, 1928, by Metropolitan Newspaper Service

You'd think that when a lame boy shows enough grit and spirit to make his university's football team, that he'd be content to rest on his laurels, display his good football, and let it go at that. Not L. W. Muegge, of the University of Illinois. He's more ambitious, and a mere matter of a bent leg, which must be dragged instead of lifted when he runs, is not too great a handicap for him to overcome in at least one other sport.

So, when football is over, "Step-and-a-Half" Lou, as his team-mates on the gridiron call him, went out for the wrestling team, and, competing in the light-heavyweight division, won his match against his West Virginia rival at Morgantown on February 4. He played right guard on Zuppke's "Big Ten" championship eleven last fall.

Lou Muegge is not the only semi-cripple who has made a major university's football team. Remember King Kelly, famous old Princeton full-back of more than a quarter of a century ago? Kelly had lost part of one of his feet, including his toes, and wore a specially constructed shoe. Tradition has it that Kelly was dropped from the football squad of another famous university because of his disability. But after entering Princeton he had the pleasure of demonstrating his worth to the team that had scorned him.

Sport is full of athletes who have succeeded in spite of handicaps that would have broken the spirit and crushed the ambition of the average mortal. The lame, the halt, and the partly blind are all the more to be honored when they overcome these heavy odds and compete on equal terms with their lucky brothers in sport.

Feg Murray Says—

In order to give more color to the international tennis matches this year, it has been suggested that the various nations be represented by players competing in national costumes. I'd think that would be rather tough on the Dutch, wooden shoe?

SPORTS DONE BROWN

By NORMAN E. BROWN.
Staff Writer for Central Press and New Castle News.

At no time since Rogers Hornsby was launched on his sensational "trading voyage" has there been any effort to belittle his ability as a ball player.

But there was a time early in his career when he was "passed up" by a minor league club, although that club had a chance to acquire his services for nothing—outside the responsibility of paying his salary.

Harry Cox, veteran baseball writer and fan of Paris, Texas tells the story.

It seems that Hornsby got his first actual professional experience with the Hugo, Okla., club. The league including the Hugo outfit blew up and Hornsby, among other players was offered to Paris in the Texas-Oklahoma league. The club bosses decided he wouldn't help their club and instead of taking him on grabbed Eddie Workman an outfielder.

Workman was the property of the Ft. Worth club when Paris sought him and had to pay Ft. Worth $500 for him. Workman played one season with Paris and then drifted away.

Hornsby went to the Denison club, then managed by "Babe" Peebles and was later sold to the St. Louis Cardinals for $500.

Hornsby's teammates at Hugo included Fred Nicholson, who later became a big league outfielder and two of the Covington boys, Bob and Clarence, brothers of the better known "Tex" Covington the Centre college football flash.

"As I recall, Hornsby was not better than a fair hitter when he tried out with Hugo and that's one of the reasons Paris passed him up," says Cox.

Sure Way to Get Rid of Dandruff

There is one sure way that never fails to remove dandruff completely and that is to dissolve it. Then you destroy it entirely.

To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most, if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and two or three more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

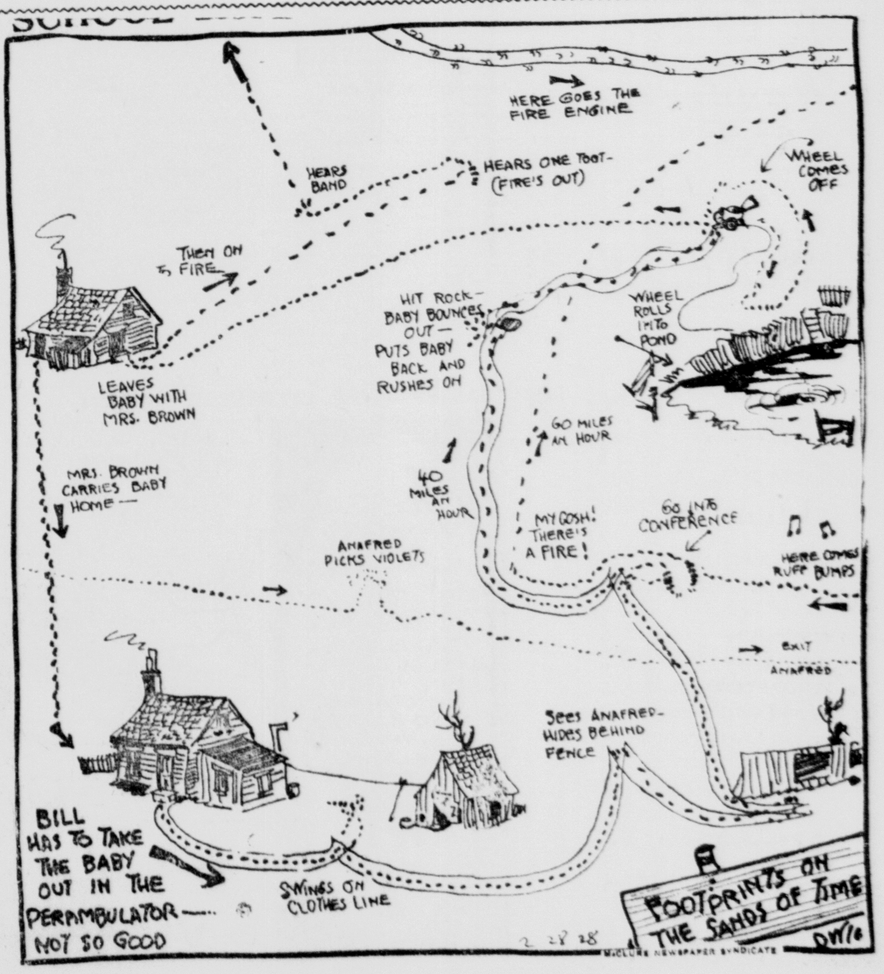

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

You can get liquid arvon at any drug store and four ounces is all you will need. This simple remedy has never been known to fail.

N. Y. STOCKS

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Feb. 28.—Dulness and irregularity characterized the stock market in the early trading today. Speculative interest revolved around a few of the active specialties in which the pools positions have been variously reported. The motor stocks continued to give a better account of themselves, and a few of the oil shares sold higher.

Preparation in the banks for the March financing was reflected in a slight firming up of the call loan market, with the rate advanced from 4¼ to 4½ per cent. Wall street looks for a continuation of comparatively tight short-term money until after the first tax payment have been made, which will be between the tenth of March and the middleof the month.

Furnace Number Four Approaching Capacity

With each day showing an increase in the output furnace No. 4 of the Carnegie Steel company in this city, which was lighted about a week ago, is rapidly approaching capacity, or about 650 tons of iron a day.

A blast furnace does not reach its capacity output for some time after it is lighted and this has been true of No. 4. The 2:30 cast on Monday afternoon showed about 100 tons of metal and by the end of the week the capacity output should be reached.

The 2:30 cast was made in splendid shape, according to the men in charge of the furnace. With little difficulty the clay wall at the tapping hole was pierced, and in a moment the iron gushed out, throwing up a shower of sparks.

In a molten stream the metal poured out, racing down the narrow trench to the waiting ladles, with the furnace slag staying on top of the metal, and being run off into another pit.

A cast is made every four hours and the ore, coke and limestone that have been put in at the top of the furnace come out at the bottom melted into iron, ready for the mixer, the converter and the blooming and bar mills, coming out in the shape of steel bars.

Lion's Club Members Enjoy Stag Party

Mock Trial One Of Features Of Program Presented Monday Evening

"Not guilty but pay the costs," was the verdict rendered by a jury of peers when Lion Jacob Altschuler was the defendant last evening at a mock trial held by the Lions club as their annual stag banquet took place at the Y. M. C. A.

Alvah Shumaker acted as judge.

Lion Altschuler had to answer to three charges: misappropriation of the Lion Jug money, eating a ham sandwich, and violating the oath of the bachelors' club at a recent date. On all of these charges he was found not guilty, but pay the costs. Prosecuting attorney was B. K. Thacker, while the defense rested in the hands of Clarence "Darrow" Patterson.

During the dinner which preceded the trial and the subsequent games on the gym floor, the Lions' double quartet sang, and the members of the club were further entertained by an act of vaudeville furnished by the Capitol theatre.

Repairing to the gym floor, Lions lined up on opposite sides, teams being captained by B. K. Thacker and T. I. Elliot. On points, Elliot's team won the match and a box of cigars which were passed around through the club.

J. Porter Campbell was taken into the club at this meeting.

Polo was played on scooters furnished by the Offutt company.

Roaming Round With Richards

Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Just Observations Of Interesting Things Around New Castle.

Did you ever stand alongside of a blast furnace when the metal is being tapped off? Ever see that boiling hot metal rush and swirl and gurgle out of the tap hole, looking for all the world like lava from some angry volcano?

It's an experience. Had it yesterday down at the Carnegie when the two-thirty cast was made at number four furnace. And if Dante could return to earth for a time and could watch the operation he would certainly write his Inferno.

In all the iron and steel game there is nothing just like it. A bar is forced through the clay wall in the bottom of the furnace and after pounding and pulling for a few minutes an aperture is made.

The bar comes out of the hole, the furnace men jump back, and who-o-osh. A sullen roar like a thousand lions being loosed, a million odd-shaped sparks fill the cast house. Gas fumes, flames, sulphur and a long molten snake makes its appearance.

Nothing stops that molten iron. Hissing and roaring and twisting down the trench, it starts on its journey to the ladles waiting for it, the elements of nature reduced to a molten mass through the alchemy of heat and the magic of man's hands.

One needs an overcoat there. Not to keep out the cold, but to keep out the heat. An intense heat and a dazzling glare, with the slag forming in grotesque figures on the top of the fiery liquid.

One hundred tons of it pour out at a cast, and who can guess where it will end. Steel girders for bridges, steel sheets for automobiles, tin cans for tomatoes and pineappples and stringed beans, steel for Pullman cars and toy wagons, steel that will go to the ends of the earth, but when the furnace is making a cast it's just like a lake of sizzling, boiling, angry iron rushing out as though to find air after that four-hour imprisonment in the furnace. It's an experience.

Looks as though both sides were wrong in that argument started over the origin of the phrase "the full dinner pail". Yesterday a request was made for the origin of it, one man claiming Mark Hanna was responsible, another William McKinley.

According to Scott Hamilton of Pennsylvania avenue, neither one is right. The originator of the phrase was Grant E. Hamilton, a brother of Scott Hamilton, and the phrase first was used on October 14, 1899. At that time Grant E. Hamilton was chief cartoonist on Judge, the comic weekly.

On October 14, 1899, Mr. Hamilton ran a cartoon in which this phrase was used, "four more years of the full dinner pail". This cartoon was followed by a series of like cartoons.

The local man, a brother of Grant E. Hamilton, has a scrap book of clippings, and in 1901 Leslie's Magazine ran an article on the phrase, quoting Hamilton, and this clipping is in possession of Scott Hamilton at the present time.

All of which would indicate that all bets are off, if there were any made in the case.

The congregation will now rise and sing a paen of appreciation to the city council for getting some of those holes in Washington street repaired. Let's hope the good work continues.

"She's a Septic!"

Many women want to be, deserve to be, and could be far more popular than is their lot. Doctors know why. So do nurses. They call such cases septics.

Girls with every grace—but one. Women of so many, many attractions—and the single exception that spoils all. Why don't they sense the situation? Why doesn't someone tell them?

To remedy obnoxious body odors and bad breath, you must recognize their cause. The trouble is deep-seated. Frankly, in the colon. Semi-constipation makes millions of systems septic. The bowels may move every day, but all the waste is not eliminated. The matter that remains is a slow poison. Yes, actual poison. It poisons the blood, and permeates the perspiration. It taints the breath. Not a pleasant condition to contemplate! But easy to correct: Nature is signaling her need of a little calcium.

Calcium works wonders in one's appearance, too. With the inner system sweet and clean, the complexion clears most marvelously. Eyes brighten. Teeth whiten. The tongue is no longer coated, even on arising. A new freshness and wholesomeness that gives you utter confidence in every contact with others.

Perhaps you are a septic, and don't know it. Try a tiny bit of calcium, and see! It may make all the difference in the world. Leave harsh, habit-forming cathartics alone. You will never need them if you take an occasional calcium tablet.

5-Day Test

Fairly astounded by the results, men and women who thought they were in perfect condition, have lived a richer, fuller life, through a trial of these tiny calcium wafers. Try them yourself.
